Saturn 5 Rockets 140-Ton Space Vehicle Into Orbit

Reds Set Back In Seven-Day Highland Fight

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen battled back today against new attacks from tough North Vietnamese regulars entrenched in the central highlands near Dak To. Gen. William C. Westmoreland said seven days of fighting in the area near Dak To has resulted in a "severe setback" for the Communists.

Initial field reports said American soldiers killed three more Communist troops in a two and a half hour skirmish today, while one more U.S. soldier was killed. This raised total casualties for the week in the area to 209 Communist and 45 Americans killed and 130 Americans wounded, the U.S. Command said.

Westmoreland flew to Dak To for a first-hand survey and on his return told newsmen in Saigon he believed the Communist forces have suffered a severe setback in their plans for operating in the Dak To area. The recent contact is a North Vietnamese attempt to recoup valuable propaganda lost during the recent Republic of Vietnam elections and National Day.

Other officers believed the upsurge of activity and the determined Communist resistance in the central highlands could be the prelude to a new Communist offensive there now that the monsoons have moved north.

The air war against North Vietnam cost the United States three Air Force planes and two F-4s Wednesday, the U.S. Command announced.

This brought total losses in the North Tuesday and Wednesday to five planes and five F-4s and raised to 732 the total number of American combat planes officially reported lost in the northern aerial war.

The U.S. Command reported an increase in U.S. and enemy troops killed in Vietnam last week while South Vietnamese casualties were less than the week before. It said 178 Americans were killed and 793 wounded in the seven day period ending Saturday, while 1,894 enemy were killed.

Romney Says Takeover In Vietnam, Mistake

wound up a Wisconsin tour Wednesday with the assertion that it was a mistake to "Americanize" the Vietnamese war. And he added a few more comments to an old controversy over "brainwashing."

The Republican presidential possibility stirred up a fuss several months ago over explaining his initial hawkish stand on Vietnam policy was due to his being "brainwashed" by American officials when he visited the country.

When he went to Vietnam, Romney told a Republican gathering at Oshkosh, he was told by high American representatives that our country's intent was to help the Vietnamese, not to take over.

But he charged, the Johnson administration already had made its decision to "Americanize" the war.

When we have a leadership that systematically controls the facts and manipulates the news," Romney said, "then we have a leadership that attempts brainwashing."

There are two kinds of brainwashing, he observed, the Communist type and the LBJ type.

He said he had been the victim of "the LBJ type."

Meanwhile, in Salt Lake City, Negro comedian Dick Gregory says religion should not be an issue against Romney, should he get the Republican presidential nomination next year.

Gregory told a group of State Lake City anti-poverty officials that Romney was the most honest and the most honest man in the country, by far, and that he was using the religion to get attention.

I'm going to have to take sides with Romney," Gregory said.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints' Mormon doesn't follow Negroes in its priesthood. Church headquarters are in Salt Lake City.

The Mormon church didn't have more than 100,000 members in the United States when Romney was elected.

Gregory said he was going to have to take sides with Romney.

Splashdown Of Apollo Planned This Afternoon

rocket performed with remarkable precision in the early phases of its maiden test flight today and drilled into orbit the world's heaviest satellite, a space vehicle weighing an incredible 140 tons.

No major mishaps happened during the more than 10 1/2 hour flight, the mission of the Saturn 5, launched at 2:22 p.m. EST, was to place the Apollo 4 spacecraft into orbit for a 17-day mission.

Still on the flight plan today were a critical second burn of the rocket's third stage and a screaming drive back through the atmosphere by an unmanned Apollo 4 moon ship that rode atop the rocket on this momentous test.

With its engines generating the combined power of more than 500 jet fighter planes, the Saturn 5 thundered into the sky at 7 a.m. EST in the most spectacular launching in the 17-year history of Cape Kennedy.

Thousands watched emblazoned on the brilliant white sides were the American flag and the letters USA.

Tens of thousands of observers crowded the Cape area watched the massive 36-story-tall rocket ride a pillar of fire more than 500 feet long across the sky and sent an unearthly howl rolling across the land.

Many held their breath; others prayed.

The rocket's more than one million parts meshed, pulsed and interacted flawlessly, and all three stages—two of them never flown before—ignited like clockwork during the 11-minute boost phase to push the record satellite into orbit 115 miles above the earth.

Included in the weight of the orbiting craft are the Apollo 4 moon ship; a large metal dummy representing the Lunar Module that two astronauts one day will ride to the surface of the moon, and the still-attached third stage of the Saturn 5.

Weight Record Total weight of the orbiting vehicle was 280,036 pounds.

The previous record-holder was another Apollo craft and attached rocket stage which weighed 58,537 pounds. They were launched in 1966 by a smaller Saturn 1 rocket. The heaviest payload orbited by the Russians was the 26,900-pound Proton 2 satellite launched in 1965.

The flight plan today was planned to simulate the early phases of an Apollo manned lunar landing mission.

The space vehicle was to orbit the earth at 117 miles for two orbits about three hours, just as Apollo astronauts will to make certain everything is okay.

Then, about 10:15 a.m., the third stage was to restart its engines to propel the spacecraft outward on a simulated lunar trajectory. After separation of the third stage and dummy lunar module, spacecraft motor was to fire to increase the speed to just short of that necessary to reach the moon.

11,400 Miles Up The Apollo spacecraft, now weighing 67,000 pounds, then was to soar to an altitude of 11,400 miles before plunging back toward earth. The motor was to fire again to ram the craft back into the atmosphere at lunar return speed of nearly 25,000 miles an hour. Blistering heat was to tear its heat shield with 4,500-degree temperatures.

Apollo 4 was to parachute to a landing in the Pacific Ocean 622 miles northwest of Hawaii, where Defense Department recovery forces awaited. Scheduled touchdown time after the 8 hour, 41 minute flight was 3:41 p.m. (EST).

Boosts Space Program The National Aeronautics and Space Administration acknowledged that going to this all-up concept on the first launching of such a complex machine entailed considerable risk. Few thought the rocket would perform.

Cut-The-Tolls Tax Hikes Gas On Jan. 1

LANSING (AP) — The $61 million "good roads" package, designed to raise more tax dollars for Michigan highways and reduce Mackinac Bridge tolls, was on Gov. George Romney's desk today.

Provisions of the five-bill package, approved by both House and Senate, include a one-cent increase in the state gasoline tax on Jan. 1, 1968, and a boost in vehicle license plate fees on Nov. 1, 1968.

The Senate removed the final obstacle from the path of the package Wednesday when it gave in to House demands and approved the so-called "Volkswagen" amendment placing a $12 minimum on the annual cost of two plates.

The two houses had agreed Tuesday on all provisions of the package except the $12 minimum added by the House to a bill boosting the present yearly weight tax on autos from 35 to 55 cents per 100 pounds.

The Senate earlier had deleted the amendment, but House members insisted that it be included in the package.

In addition to raising gasoline from 6 cents a gallon to 7 cents and boosting weight taxes, the bills:

—Appropriate $3.5 million a year to refinance and lower tolls on the Mackinac Bridge.

—Raise the hundredweight charge for house trailers from 35 to 40 cents, for farm vehicles from 50 to 55 cents, for ambulances and hearses from 75 to 80 cents, and for trucks in the 8,000-to-8,000 pound class from $1.25 to $1.35.

—Increase the cities' and villages' share of road tax revenues from 18 to 20 per cent—giving Detroit an estimated $6 million more per year—with the state waterways fund share of highway fund money from 1/2 per cent of the gross to 1 1/2 per cent of the net after collection expenses—an increase of about $1.7 million.

The package, which failed to receive approval in the regular session of the Legislature, was placed on the special session agenda by Romney.

Fear Voter Wrath The initial bills received quick passage in the Senate, but ran into trouble in the House where some lawmakers feared it would be political suicide to vote for higher gasoline and weight taxes this fall after approving a state income tax in July.

The amendment providing for the $12 minimum, meaning that owners of vehicles weighing from 1,800 to 2,200 pounds would pay the same price for their plates, stirred controversy in both houses.

In voting 25-4 to accept the amendment, the senators turned down a plea by Senate Highway Committee Chairman James Fleming, R-Jackson, that the bill be sent to a conference committee to work out a solution.

Lawsuit Rumored Fleming said he had "heard some talk of Volkswagen dealers cashing in on the publicity" by filing a suit challenging the constitutionality of the amendment.

Such a suit, he said, could hold up the effective date of the package "for two or three years."

Volkswagen owners, who now pay $5.90 for license plates, would have paid $9.90 under the terms of the regular weight tax increase had the $12 minimum been turned down.

The tax on a 3,000-pound auto would be increased from the present $10.50 to approximately $16.50.

The $3.5 million appropriation for the Mackinac Bridge would allow the bridge authority to reduce passenger car and pickup tolls from the present $3.75 for a one-way trip to approximately $1.50, according to supporters of the package.

Tolls for trucks, which now range as high as $15 could be reduced to about $6.75.

The bills were given immediate effect by both houses, but the higher license fee rates are set to take effect with the purchase of 1969 license plates.

Israel Insists On Direct Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security

Council is making a new attempt to break the Middle East deadlock despite signs of hardening positions by both Israel and Egypt.

Egypt requested a meeting of the 15-nation council this afternoon to deal with Israel's refusal to withdraw from territory it seized during the June war. A government spokesman told a news conference in Cairo there could be no move toward a settlement until Jewish forces pull back.

In New York, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told newsmen Egypt's demand that Israel withdraw without a peace treaty defining frontiers "is so irrational that it is amazing to find it proposed."

Claims Prejudice Eban said that, because of its provisions for withdrawal, an Indian resolution aimed at promoting a settlement was unacceptable. He criticized a rival U.S. draft, contending it did not give enough stress to Israel's insistence on direct negotiations with the Arab states.

The Israeli Foreign Minister also found fault with a Japanese working paper circulating among council members. He said that, like the Indian resolution, it prejudices Israel's position on withdrawal.

Eban concentrated his fire on the proposal submitted by India, Mali and Nigeria. He charged that it had been drawn up "in close consultation at every point" with Egypt, but without consultation with Israel.

Eban stressed that there must be no return to armistice boundary lines that existed before the June war. He said they must be "superceded by an agreed and secure permanent frontier."

The U.S. draft seeks "withdrawal of armed forces from occupied territory" but does not spell out which armed forces nor specify that all seized Arab land should be evacuated.

Eban insisted anew that direct talks with the Arabs was the only road to peace.

"It is for the sovereign governments of the area and not anyone else to determine by negotiation the situation to succeed the cease-fire," he declared.

The case was brought by Walter W. Fox of Detroit, injured in 1955 while working at Kaiser Automobile Co., and laid off in 1964 by another employer, Pioneer Engineering & Manufacturing.

For the 1955 knee injury, Fox was awarded $34 a week for 500 weeks under workmen's compensation while he was unemployed. He later was hired in a different job capacity but then was laid off by Pioneer and was awarded $97 a week for 19 1/2

Injury Comp Doesn't Bar Jobless Comp

LANSING (AP) — A person may not be denied unemployment compensation benefits because he is also receiving benefits for a job injury under workmen's compensation, the Michigan Supreme Court has ruled.

In a case described as the first test in the United States of the constitutionality of such a state law, the court ruled in a 6-1 decision Wednesday that a portion of the Michigan Employment Security Act was unconstitutional.

The case was brought by Walter W. Fox of Detroit, injured in 1955 while working at Kaiser Automobile Co., and laid off in 1964 by another employer, Pioneer Engineering & Manufacturing.

weeks in unemployment compensation benefits.

"Under section 27n of the Employment Security Act," the court said, "the Employment Security Commission deducted from its award of $37 per week the benefits of $34 per week the plaintiff was receiving under the Workmen's Compensation Act."

The court held that it was discriminatory to deny Fox both benefits because injured persons with different types of disabilities could receive dual benefits.

Fox's case was classified as "partial permanent disability" rather than "specific loss."

The court said that when two employees are permanently injured "the working capacity of each is reduced yet the employee with the specific loss is given the additional privilege of dual benefits, while the other is denied that privilege."

Inkster Blacks Stone Police

INKSTER (AP) — Thirty-nine young Negroes hurling rocks and stones and shouting "black power" and "kill whitey" were arrested Wednesday after a schoolroom tussle between a Negro pupil and a white teacher, police said.

A police officer reportedly was hospitalized with a possibly broken nose. No other injuries were reported. A police car was wrecked in the fracas.

Inkster police said the trouble started after school hours, when a large group of youngsters on their way home from Robichaud High School, in neighboring Dearborn Heights, gathered on an Inkster street corner and defied police orders to move on.

Inkster and Dearborn Heights are suburbs of Detroit, which last summer saw rioting which claimed 43 lives. Inkster is predominantly Negro; Dearborn Heights predominantly white.

Both the teacher and the pupil were slightly bruised in the schoolroom scuffle, Dearborn Heights police said.

Inkster police said those arrested ranged from 15 to 19 years old, "and the 19-year-olds weren't students, they were black power agitators wearing beads in their ears and robes," an officer commented.

Foreign Aid Bill $730 Million Short WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received from Congress a foreign aid authorization bill $730 million less than the amount he sought.

The Senate sent a compromise version to the White House by voice vote Wednesday. The House barely rejected a proposal that the measure be returned to a conference to include a provision banning aid to nations trading with North Vietnam.

The vote was 200 to 196 against the proposal by Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa. The House then passed the bill, 205 to 187.

Iron Ore Mark Still Possible

Iron ore shipments at Escanaba may approach last year's all-time record, but chances for a new season high at Marquette appear to be dimming.

Lee A. McMillan, Chicago & North Western dock agent at Escanaba, said that ore shipments through October totaled 5,267,756 tons compared with 5,431,841 tons a year ago.

That's less than 200,000 tons short of last year's record season when 6,600,000 tons were shipped from Escanaba despite a later start of the navigation season.

October tonnage, he pointed out, was 727,187 this year compared with 874,513 tons a year ago.

McMillan said that if the weather holds shipping will continue until at least Dec. 15, giving Escanaba a chance to approach last year's record season.

Ore shipments at Marquette last month from two docks totaled 686,009 tons. The record for both docks was set last

Gardner Gets 2 To 5 Years

Harold J. Gardner, 27, of Rte. 2, Bark River, was sentenced to serve two to five years in the State Prison at Marquette Wednesday.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson imposed sentence with the recommendation that Gardner be sent to Jackson Prison where psychiatric help is available.

Gardner, who was arrested by State Police and Delta County Sheriff's office Aug. 23, pleaded guilty to charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile and also to entering a cottage without permission.

The prison term was imposed on the auto theft count. Judge Davidson also sentenced Gardner to serve 90 days on the entering without permission charge. The sentence will run concurrently with the prison term.

The entering without permission charge was reduced from breaking and entering. Davidson, in imposing sentence, noted that the offenses Gardner was charged with were apparently part of a "binge" in which he was involved in at least 12 other breaking and enterings in the area.

Before sentence, Gardner asked the court to provide psychiatric treatment.

Boy, 8, Rescued By Pal After Falling Through Ice

An afternoon off from school nearly wound up in death for an eight-year-old boy from Soo Hill and made a hero out of his nine-year-old companion.

Michael Mineau, son of Mrs. Judith Mineau, was pulled from icy water in a gravel pit at Soo Hill by John McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brazeau.

He was reported in "fairly good" condition at St. Francis Hospital Wednesday afternoon, where he was taken by Floyd Cassidy, principal of the Soo Hill school. Cassidy found Michael soaking wet and shivering on the bank of the pit shortly after he was rescued.

"John McMillan saved that kid's life," Cassidy said.

Cassidy said he was notified shortly after 1 p. m. Tuesday that the two boys were missing from classes in the third grade at Soo Hill. He said after notifying the boys' parents, he started looking for them.

"About a quarter to three I called their mothers again," he recalled. "When they still weren't home I decided to take a last look before I called the police and sheriff's office. It gets dark pretty fast these days, and I didn't want the kids out after dark."

Cassidy said when he pulled him at the gravel pit he noticed a thin layer of ice over the water. He was looking around when he heard a call for help.

Cassidy said he ran back to his car for a coil of rope he had in the trunk, then started running in the direction of the call.

"When I got there Michael was lying in the leaves, wimping," Cassidy said. "He was soaking wet. I picked him up and brought him to the emergency room at the hospital."

Apparently, Michael had walked out on the driveway and fell through into water over his head, Cassidy continued. John McMillan got a stick and pushed it out to him. After a struggle, Michael was pulled to shore.

Michael said he learned the rescue method in Cub Scouts.

Cassidy said the boy was shivering and in shock when he picked him up and rushed him to the hospital.

"His temperature was still only 94 when they took him up to a room after they had worked on him in the emergency room," he added.

"I hope that's a lesson they'll never forget," he said.

Adult Ceramics, Knitting To Start

In response to requests, the Escanaba Adult Evening School program will start two classes, knitting and ceramics, earlier than usual this year.

The classes will run for 12 weeks with a break for the Christmas holidays. A minimum enrollment of 10 is required.

Diane Blomfelt of the public schools art staff will teach ceramics. The class will deal primarily with the making of pottery with students creating an entire piece from the start with a lump of clay to the finished product.

Ceramics will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesdays in room 154 of the Junior High.

Registration for both the knitting and ceramics classes may be made by attending the first session of the class. Afternoon knitting will begin Monday, Nov. 13, at 2 p. m. and the evening knitting class starts at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 14. Ceramics will also begin Tuesday, Nov. 14.

The Adult Evening School is sponsored by the Area Board of Education on a self-sustaining basis. Registration fees are charged commensurate with the amount needed to meet the instructor's salary. Students must purchase their own materials. For more information, call 786-4468.

Ray Robitaille Heads Veterans

At VFW Hall the Escanaba Veterans Council, comprised of the American Legion, AMVETS, Disabled American Veterans, VFW and World War I Veterans, elected Ray Robitaille as commander at a meeting Wednesday night.

Robitaille is a World War II veteran and a member of the AMVETS and VFW.

Other officers elected are: George Embs of the AMVETS as adjutant; Fincher of the Legion as chaplain.

Don Kolsh, outgoing commander, asked all veterans to be present during the Veterans Day services to be held Saturday, Nov. 11.

Participants are asked to be at the City Police Station at 10:30 a. m. Saturday and the services will be held at 11th and Ludington at 11 a. m.

In other business, the Council voted to have suitable plaques purchased and placed on the flag poles of each of the area's 8 cemeteries.

The "Shooting over the Graves" ceremony held on Memorial Day at each cemetery will be held at the flag pole sites. The main flag will be honored in lieu of placing flags on the individual graves of deceased veterans.

Mayor Proclaims Veterans Day, Saturday, Nov. 11

Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe has urged local residents to display the American flag Saturday on Veterans Day.

In a special proclamation, Mayor Vanlerberghe also asked that citizens pay respect to the men and women who served in the nation's armed forces during World War I, World II and the present conflict.

"Let us join together in paying a solemn tribute to the memory of the dead and living defenders of our nation," the mayor said.

Vanlerberghe also joined President Johnson in designating the week of Nov. 12-23 as National Retarded Children's Week. The mayor said the city would join the Delta County Chapter of the Retarded Children's Association in observance of the week.

Thirty Fishermen Fined For Taking Cohos In Huron

Thirty fishermen were arrested on the Big Huron River, in Northwest Marquette County, for taking or attempting to take salmon illegally during the early run of cohos from Oct. 11 through Oct. 17.

The 30 fishermen were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Steve Markovich of L'Anse, and paid a total of $919 in fines and court costs. Twenty-seven were arrested for snagging salmon, one for possession of over the limit of coho, one for fishing without a license and another for using illegal size hooks. The arrests were made by Conservation Officers from the Baraga and Crystal Falls District.

The fishermen arrested included 19 from the Upper Peninsula.

Esky Foundation Reelects Heads

Officers re-elected at the annual meeting of the Escanaba Foundation held at the Chamber building yesterday afternoon were: Gus Asp, president; James R. Fitzharris, vice president; John L. Greene, treasurer; and Walter G. Lewke, Secretary.

Directors re-elected for three year terms were E. G. Bennett, Forrest Henslee and Russell Lee.

Ray McDonough, who serves on the Foundation board during his year as president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, was welcomed to the board.

The board heard a progress report on the Northern Motor Builders, Inc., building at the Industrial Park location. The building is completed and the company is moving its operations into it.

Drivers Referred To Safety School

LANSING (AP) — The state more than tripled the number of drivers referred to county driver safety schools during the past fiscal year.

Secretary of State James Hare said Wednesday the trend represents an intensified effort on the part of his department "to re-educate drivers instead of punishing them."

The Department of State referred more than 2,000 drivers to the county schools during the 1966-67 year, an increase from 585 the previous fiscal year.

Municipal judges referred more than 5,500 drivers and 172 persons enrolled voluntarily to make up the 8,744 total participating in the instruction.

Gas Well Plugged; Families Return To Their Homes

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. workers reported Wednesday they had succeeded in plugging a potentially dangerous runaway natural gas well.

About 150 families in northeastern Macomb County had been evacuated from their homes while crews worked around the clock to stop the gas from bubbling to the surface through a bed of shale 500 feet down and abandoned oil wells.

Attempts to stem the gas flow had been thwarted when heavy drilling mud forced into the well was carried away by a subterranean river.

"Hearing unforeseen circumstances we've got it plugged," said a weedy gas company engineer.

Another 30 families were returned to their homes Wednesday, leaving only 40 living in motels until the danger of explosion is past.

Company officials said new shafts would be sunk to relieve the gas pressure at the level of the shale bed.

Mid-U.P. Getting Set For The Jets

By JEAN WORTH

LANSING—The mid-Upper Peninsula is getting set for jet airliner traffic in 1968, but the tips of the Peninsula aren't going to be ready.

Lester Andrews, airport development officer of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, reviewed the situation here Wednesday as North Central Airlines, which serves the major cities of the U. P. with commercial flights, readied its fleet for turbo-prop and jet airliner service next year.

The first turbo-prop 580 conversions of Convair 440s are already on U. P. routes with jet service to follow when the airports are ready for the 98-passenger DC9's late in 1968. North Central has indicated that it will be looking for airports on its 65 station airline system after the first of next year to use jets on because of their economy and capacity.

Ready In 1968
North Central has three of its DC9's in service now of an order of 10 with an option to buy 5 more, and 20 of its 440's. Convairs are converted or being converted from piston engine power to turbo-prop, with an option to convert the remaining 11.

No non-military airport in the Upper Peninsula is prepared for jets at present, but Marquette, Iron Mountain, and Escanaba all have 1968 airport development projects scheduled to handle these new jet-powered airliners in 1968.

Only a few of the 65 airports that North Central serves are ready for the jets—like Minneapolis and Green Bay. The turbo-prop Convair 580s fly 100 miles an hour faster than the 440s and are welcomed in the U. P. for their short flight time, but the jets are the bonanza sought for the ultimate speed-up of travel in this period. They're as welcome to the airlines as to the traveling public because of their economy of operation and big load-carrying ability.

Airline To Be Ready
Delta County has a $748,300 project set up for 1968 which will provide a new airport administration building, lengthen the main runway to 6,500 feet for jet traffic, provide a taxiway and apron and new access road to the airport from M-35. The City of Escanaba, State of Michigan and Federal Aviation Administration will finance the project.

At an FAA hearing in Washington recently Milton Ellison, manager of airport requirements for North Central, said that the airline would have the jet available the day that the Upper Peninsula had the airports ready for them.

Marquette has an airport development project ready for 1968 and so does Iron Mountain.

Houghton Delays
In the Copper Country Houghton County hasn't started a runway extension project yet. Its attitude so far has been that it is losing money on airport operation, so why should it increase the deficit by the large spending necessary to ready an airport for the jetliners? This sentiment is changing and the packaging up of a development project for 1968 appears likely to serve the Copper Country's mine industry needs, and those of the general public and Michigan Technological University.

The Copper Country has a special problem of transportation because of isolation and is now benefitting from a four month reprieve from end of service of the Copper Country

Limited, its only passenger train.

Sault Unsettled

At Sault Ste. Marie the situation is unsettled, said Andrews. The U. S. Air Force has scheduled closing of Kincheloe Air Force Base for 1971 and this would make the base or part of it available for non-military aviation, but it is 29 miles from Sault Ste. Marie, which would create a situation like that when Willow Run Airport served Detroit. It was so distant that many travelers spent more time getting from the airport to Detroit than they did on their flight. Detroit eventually developed Metropolitan Airport nearer the city.

The Michigan Aeronautics Commission, working with Sault Ste. Marie and Chippewa County and the surrounding area on their aviation problem, backed a solution that would move the Sault's airport one mile beyond its present location, because the present field cannot be expanded feasibly. Two square miles of area were optioned for a new airport, but the FAA said it wouldn't give federal aid to development of the proposed airport because Kincheloe will become surplus.

Problem Not Solved

Mrs. Romney Is Recuperating At Family Home

ROYAL OAK (AP) — Lenore Romney, wife of Michigan Gov. George Romney, left William E. Beaumont Hospital Wednesday to recuperate at home from a fractured shoulder she suffered Sunday at the family home in Bloomfield Hills.

Romney said the Michigan First Lady could recover faster at home. "She's an owl," he explained, as he wheeled Mrs. Romney from the hospital. "She likes to sleep late. They're waking her at 5 o'clock in the morning and she's not getting her sleep."

St. Louis Will Be Speaker On NMU's Seminar

The last United States official to receive a permit to leave Red China after the civil war will be among the featured speakers at a foreign policy seminar set for Marquette this Friday and Saturday.

George St. Louis, now of Escanaba and formerly a U.S. State Department official, left the China mainland in May of 1950, after having served in that country and in the Philippines, in charge of post-war procurement operations. He later held State Department positions in Burma, Formosa, Korea, Pakistan, India and Colombia. Before the Far East assignment, St. Louis had been assigned to the Balkan Stockpile Project, a program supported by Winston Churchill and a President Franklin Roosevelt to minimize civilian unrest and suffering during the war years.

Also appearing at the one-half day seminar which begins at 3 p.m. Friday in the Northern Michigan University Center, will be John Anthony McVicker with the U.S. Department of State, Washington, D.C., who is currently doing research in the Soviet Eastern European Bureau. Another guest lecturer will be Vira Danvithana of Thailand who for 15 years

Woman Hurt In City Crash

Poverty's Week

UPCAP is wearing a wrinkle in its forehead this week as the House of Representatives in Washington decides on the War on Poverty funds for next year.

The Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress administers many of the Office of Economic Opportunity programs in the Upper Peninsula for the federal government. The funds which it receives for this type of technical assistance keeps this agency operating.

One of the six Community Action Agencies in the Upper Peninsula (Dickinson-Iron) which operate a variety of War on Poverty programs is in trouble; its funds gone, but the other five have unexpended funds to carry them for a few weeks or more until Congress acts on a new appropriation.

The CAP services range from Head Start programs for pre-school children to drop-in centers and counseling for the elderly, a diploma program (at Manistique) a dental program, etc.

The National Youth Corps program needs congressional action for continuance and so does U. P. Legal Services Inc. The legal aid program has funds to finish the calendar year if it cuts out travel allowances, says Administrator Nino Green. The Small Business Development Center program has been authorized to spend unexpended funds which will finance its operations for three more weeks, says UPCAP.

The word that UPCAP gets from Washington indicates that the House will refinance these programs at their present level of expenditures. The programs are now coming under Congressional inspection of their usefulness and also their desirability in competition for funds in national budget that is shaping up a deficit of as much as $30 billion because of the war in Vietnam. Congress is demanding that the Johnson Administration reduce domestic, non-defense spending as the price of enactment of an income surtax to reduce the deficit, claiming that the tax alone will not have sufficient impact to curb a dangerous inflation.

The Senate is much friendlier to renewal of the OEO program than is the House, and the upper chamber already has passed a liberal anti-poverty bill.

Some opposition in the House is ascribed to congressional criticism of the War on Poverty programs, but the underlying reason for the deepest hostility toward the renewal legislation is that the chief beneficiaries of the program are impoverished Negroes and this makes the expenditures politically unpopular in the South.

This antagonism already has caused the House to deny to the federal workers in the War on Poverty the pay increase granted to other federal workers. The action weakens civil service and is punitive. Some of the anti-poverty workers are now working as volunteers because funds to pay them have been exhausted. There may be good reasons for folding up some of the War on Poverty programs as ineffective or needless, but there can be no justification for thus penalizing workers in this welfare effort.

The elections of last fall hurt the anti-poverty bill's chances, with resurgent Republicans joining Southern congressmen in opposition to this kind of spending. The fact that we do have poor and that they're worthy of a national effort in aid seems to be lost in the talk about the huge deficit that impends and the threat of inflation and the unhappiness created by the war.

It is more than unfortunate, it is not excusable that Congress is so poorly equipped to make a fair judgment on the basic results of the War on Poverty to date. The program was hastily conceived and implemented. Some of its phases are hard to evaluate. It's been said defensively that the result of Head Start work with pre-school children won't be known fully for another 20 years, but this is only a quibble.

There should have been more analytical examination of the anti-poverty programs to determine the justification for the millions being spent on them. Instead Congress is going to bumble through, apparently giving the effort substantially what it got last time up, or trimming here and there in a gesture toward economy; not so much because their isn't poverty as because there isn't money enough in sight to fight the war in Vietnam and to fight poverty at home.

No Viet Duty Seen For Lynda's Chuck

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

A White House source says now that Marine Corps Capt. Charles Robb, or Chuck, as Lynda Bird Johnson calls him, will not now go to Vietnam.

Before the couple announced their engagement, Robb had been (and still is officially) on orders to be shipped Vietnamward sometime in February. He and the President's daughter will be married in December.

But fate is fate. Robb has never said he wants to go to war, though he admits he was disappointed when he got the assignment a year ago as White House social aide. Of course, that was before he met Lynda Bird.

"It wouldn't be wise to send him there now," our source said. "Why make him a target of a special prize for the Viet Cong? That's exactly what he'd be, when means the Marine Corps would have to give him a special guard, and what young Marine officer with any amount of pride wants that?"

Like it or not, the Marine Corps now has a special officer in its ranks. Same goes for Robb.

The source said Robb does not know it yet, but he may now be ticketed for some sort of strategic—and rugged—duty stateside.

Curious Quote Department: "Adam should show a little more determination instead of sitting back and waiting for the courts to solve his problems. I've been a long-time advocate of his coming back to the United States."

So said Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., of Adam Clayton Powell, Conyers, a Negro, is one of the more respected younger members of Congress. It just seems odd one has to "advocate" Powell's return to his country, while his Harlem constituency goes unrepresented.

Reason: a stalled Capitol elevator.

Now here's a remarkable congressman, a chap with a record which every member would do well to half match. Rep. Charles Bennett, D-Fla., hasn't missed a House vote of any kind since June 5, 1951. That's what you call representation.

However, Bennett didn't achieve this mark easily. Through those years he got to the floor despite two broken arms, three leg fractures, polio, two major Washington snowstorms, a missed plane and the birth of a daughter.

Last week the record nearly was broken.

Reason: a stalled Capitol elevator.

"JOHNNY APPLESEED" John Chapman, known as "Johnny Applesseed," devoted his life to planting apple trees. He traveled hundreds of miles over the frontier in the early 1800s, planting and pruning thousands of apple trees.

"Now That You're Up, Sir, What Shall We Do About These?"

Letters To The Press

DISSENT

I am forced to disagree with the Press' opinion regarding the propriety of student influence upon the policy of the university today. (Student Control, 10-30-61)

The Press stated that a student should not attend a university whose policies he does not agree with. However, a student chooses his university for its overall reputation and for its academic standing in the field he wishes to enter. A student in his senior year in high school has little opportunity to investigate the administrative shortcomings of a school, nor does such a thing occur to him, since he is all but overwhelmed by the academic choices he must make.

The student chooses the university he judges most conducive to his mental growth, his primary criterion, but he is not obligated to subservience. A citizen of Escanaba, though he likes the town immensely, is still free to complain about garbage pickup, rather than move out of town because of it.

But here we must stop, because I have made a crucial assumption: that the college student is a sincere, thinking adult, instead of a child who must be kept in line. This is where so many parents and the Press go wrong. They feel the money they pay buys a babysitting service, which will keep the child out of involvements which they (the parents) would be ashamed of. As the editorial states, "It is about time . . . for parents to be acknowledging that their children are . . . beyond their control." But "undisciplined?" That depends upon whether the parents expect the child to run rampant, or to retain the good sense he was taught at home.

Assuming that college students are adults (albeit not faultless yet), then they do not . . . substitute their judgment . . . for that of the President, the Congress, et al." Rather, they express their opinions, as has been the custom in this country for some time.

In conclusion, I believe that if society would view the college student as a peer, rather than as a brash beatnik, it might better understand him — and vice versa.

VALUES

As you well know there are two sides to a coin. In particular, I refer to your editorial on student protest of "classified research" here at the University of Michigan. Just as I do not agree with you on the "outrageous" aspects of the protests (The Boston Tea Party was violation of existing laws.)

I also disagree when you imply that since 300 out of 35,000 students stage a legal sit-in within the technicalities of University rules, the majority of "children" (students at Michigan) are undisciplined and beyond their "parents' control." And therefore, they should be yanked out of school and brought home.

It seems to me that the relative and comparative values of the objects of protest at the University of Michigan and Northern Michigan University and the per cent of active protest at Northern provide much more food for thought as well as a sound basis for parental concern.

Let me clarify my protest by first emphasizing that I am behind the American effort in Vietnam. Second, that I feel the news media invariably blows out of proportion the actions of a minority. And finally, that this particular minority would protest anything under the sun, any how.

Robert C. Haack

TREAT

United Church Women want to thank you for the fine public service the "Escanaba Daily Press" performed in giving generous coverage to the 1961 Trick or Treat for UNICEF program. Without the interest and excitement generated by such publicity, our drive could not have met with such success.

The losers would have been needy children and mothers in all parts of the world.

Warm thanks and commendations are, of course, also in order for our boys and girls. They showed maturity and enthusiasm.

Power Record

JACKSON (AP) — Consumers Power Co. produced a record electrical output Tuesday, the company said Wednesday. Cold weather and heavy industrial production necessitated sending out $4,089,240 kilowatt hours of electrical power. The old record was $3,358,000 kilowatt hours, last Jan. 19.

ago when Alvin Landy was making one of his few appearances at the table. Jeff and Alvin were one of our great partnerships once upon a time and Alvin handled the three no-trump contract superbly.

He won the heart opening, led a diamond to dummy's king and finessed against East's queen. He did this because he knew that West was long in the majors. Then he cashed his ace of diamonds, entered dummy with the ace of clubs; ran the rest of the diamonds, came back to his hand with the king of clubs, laid down the ace of hearts for his 10th trick and threw West in with a heart.

West had been forced to hang on to the ace and queen of spades and had to give Alvin one more overtrick.

One advantage of Landy and similar conventions is that few people have learned how to defend against it. Actually the defense is simple if you and your partner have worked it out.

The Landy two club bid asks for major suits. If you, as partner, of the no-trump bidder, double two clubs you simply say that you have a good hand, and are interested in going on to game or in doubling your opponents when they get into their major suit. A bid of two or three diamonds or three clubs is competitive and nonforcing, while a bid of two no-trump is a very mild invitation to go on to game. A bid of two hearts or spades shows a poor hand but a good suit and no defense against the other major suit, while a bid of three hearts or three spades is a strong invitation to game in that suit and is bid in spite of the fact that you know your opponent is likely to hold five trumps against you.

You may also ignore the two club call completely as Jeff Glick of Miami did some years ago when Alvin Landy was making one of his few appearances at the table. Jeff and Alvin were one of our great partnerships once upon a time and Alvin handled the three no-trump contract superbly.

We are grateful to the many adults without whose help in preparing the Halloween program, in supervising the children and in giving tirelessly of themselves Escanaba could not have participated in the nationwide UNICEF program.

Traditionally generous, our fellow citizens unstintingly opened their doors and their hearts to the UNICEF Trick or Treaters. We wish to thank them one and all.

TOLLS

Concerning increase in gas tax:

A friend of mine said that if this law is passed, that the only way we can get our money back is to drive to the Mackinac Bridge, park our car and run back and forth across it as many times as we wish as there is no charge for pedestrians; or is there? (Pedestrians cannot cross.)

My opinion, is that, if a family or person has the money for traveling, vacationing, or visiting which requires crossing the bridge, he can afford the present bridge toll.

Farmer Prices Dip 3 Points

LANSING (AP) — The index of prices received by Michigan farmers in mid-October was 255 per cent of the 1910-14 average, down three points from a year ago.

Lower prices for eggs, wheat, corn and hogs were primarily responsible for the decrease. The index was down six points from mid-September, mainly due to drops in prices for beef, eggs, corn and seasonal fruits.

Ann Landers

Accused Innocent Until Proven Guilty

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you told a wife who wondered if her husband was cheating in Vietnam not to ask him any questions when he returned. You also said, "If he volunteers the information, listen quietly, say nothing, forgive him and never bring up the subject again."

Is this sauce only for the goose, or does it also apply to the gander?

My brother has been in Vietnam for eight months. I have no proof but I could almost swear that his wife has entertained a former sweetheart in her apartment. It burns me up that she has always gotten away with the goody-goody act. Everyone in the family thinks she is a saint. I have a theory that people who go out of their way to be especially nice are hiding something.

I also have a theory that it is best to bring things out in the open and clear the air. When my brother comes home I plan to tell him of my suspicions and if his wife is innocent let her prove it. I studied commercial law in high school and this is the basis for American justice. Right? — NOT BLIND

Dear Not: You must have flunked the course. Needn't because you've got it wrong. American justice is based on the concept that a person is innocent until proven guilty.

"Clear the air," my Aunt Minnie! You sound like a four-door brass-plated trouble-maker and I hope your brother tells you to M-Y-O-B the minute you open your mouth.

Dear Ann Landers: I was widowed at 48. Two sons. One married the following year. The other married six months later. I gave them each $1,000 as a wedding gift.

Three months later the younger son asked if he could borrow $300. I said yes. He never paid it back so I gave his brother $300 also, because I wanted to be fair. Then the older boy asked if I would help him buy a house. I signed for his loan. He and his wife moved out of town six months later and I had to make good on the payments.

The following year they decided to move back to town. I gave them $5,000 to get started. I gave the other son $5,000, too, because I wanted to be fair.

Neither of these boys or to shake hands.

their wives have the time of day for me unless they want to talk about borrowing money. They never ask me to their homes for a meal or invite me any place. I am nearly 70 and have very little money left. I am so depressed about the way my sons treat me that I don't know what to do. Any advice? —USED

Dear Used: One thing you can do is stop being a money machine. I hope your letter will wake up other mothers who think gifts to children necessarily beget love and respect.

Demonstration Co. Asks For $350,000

A board of directors for Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., has been selected.

This is the non-profit corporation planned to conduct the Michigan demonstration project for the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission. The commission is composed of the governors of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and Federal Co-chairman Thomas Francis, and it will administer the "Little Appalachia" regional development program financed by the federal government and the states in the Northern Great Lakes States.

Michigan's Advisory Task Force to the commission recommended that Michigan undertake a wood industry improvement demonstration, while Wisconsin plans to demonstrate lake rehabilitation and Minnesota iron ore industrial development.

At a meeting in Manistique on Oct. 30 the nominating committee of the Michigan Advisory Task Force brought together Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe, chairman of the Task Force; Myron M. Riggs, Cheboygan of the Northern Michigan Development Council; Arne Elavast, Laurium, Michigan, Department of Commerce; Robert Bahrman, Gaylord, U. S. Plywood Corp.; Frank K. Hobolik, Manistique Pulp & Paper Co.; and William Wilson, Marquette, Operation Action — U. S. Forest Service.

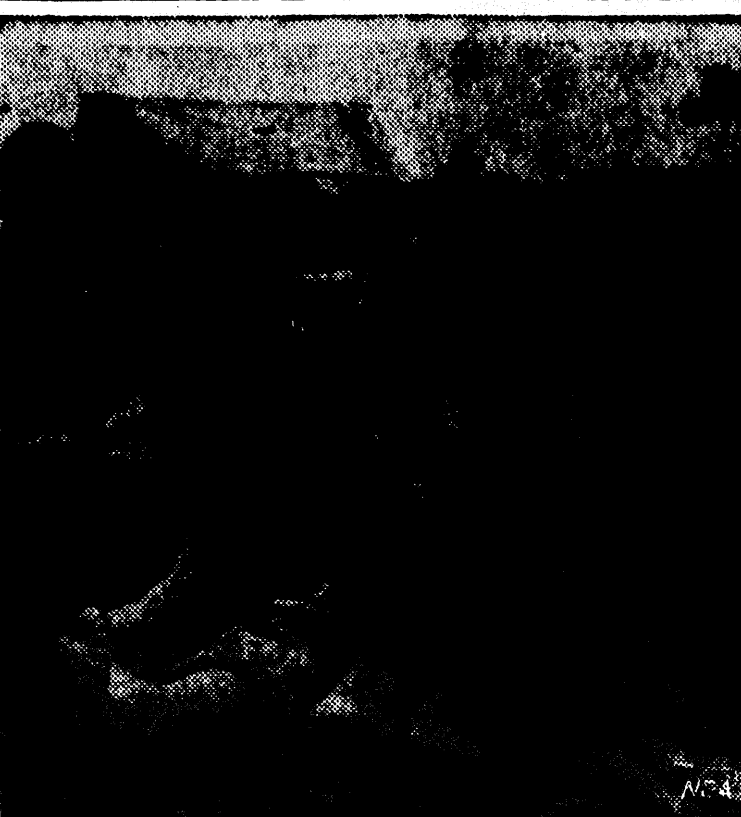

They named as directors of Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc.: Earl K. Chibrow, Cheboygan timber producer; Ernie Manthe, Charlevoix; Vener Mill; Ron Meador, Manistique; Saw Mill; Charles Pinkerton, Detroit & Mackinac Railway, Tawas City; Sam Cohodas, Marquette banker; John Hall, Soo Line Railroad, Minneapolis; Frank Hobolik; Myron Riggs; George Rowley, Vanderbilt pellet manufacturer; Warren Smith, U. S. Plywood, Gaylord. Also Casey Westell, Packaging Corp. of America, Manistee; William Nicholls, Copper Range Co., Houghton; Harold Vanlerberghe, Mead Corp., Escanaba; William Veaser, U. P. Power

Co., Houghton; Ed Khoury, Iron Mountain furniture manufacturer; Ed Locke, pulwood agent, Ishpeming; and William Wilson of Operation Action.

The directors approved a request to the federal government for a grant of $350,000 to operate Upper Great Lakes Timber and invited Thomas Francis to attend a Task Force meeting in the St. Ignace area on Nov. 14.

The Task Force was meeting today at Higgins Lake Conservation School to discuss acceleration of tourism development in the region. A survey of the situation by Cecchi & Co., of Washington, D. C., for the Upper Great Lakes Commission was basis of the discussion. The Upper Michigan Tourist Association and other tourism agencies were represented.

War On Poverty Grinding To Halt For Lack Of Pay

The War on Poverty has come home to its own workers this week with a cutoff of some funds for the economic opportunity program and with others running out.

Intimately affected is UP CAP — the Upper Peninsula Community Action Program — which performs technical services for several federal agencies involved in the War on Poverty and which lives on its grants for such services.

UPCAP reported that the six Upper Peninsula Community Action Programs are affected, one most harshly. It is the Dickinson-Iron Agency, which must cut its spending 50 per cent. The ax also hangs over the other five agencies including the Menominee, Delta-Schoolcraft agency, and the Gogebic, Ontonagon, Keweenaw-Houghton-Baraga, Marquette-Alger, and Chippewa-Mackinac-Luce programs.

The CAP operates Head Start service for pre-school children, drop-in centers for the elderly, dental programs, home counseling and a "Green Thumb" project in Gogebic-Ontonagon to employ marginal employables in landscape beautification works.

There's only a few weeks of operation in sight for the CAP unless Congress acts quickly on a new appropriation for the Office of Economic Opportunity chief agencies in the War on Poverty.

A fight in Congress over the program imperils its future. Southern congressmen are not in favor of it because of its emphasis on aid to poor Negroes. There are also political power struggles surfacing in the congressional debate, with proposed amendment to transfer the operations of Community Action from War on Poverty agencies with Democratic Party orientation to local governments. Republicans say this would destroy community action in the big cities and in areas of the South, where there is no genuine commitment to the concept of helping the underprivileged economically to help themselves.

Without an appropriation bill so far this fiscal year, OEO has been operating under a series of continuing authorization resolutions which permit it to spend funds at the same level as last year. The last such resolution ran out on October 23, and since that time OEO has legally been unable to obligate government funds.

The House version of the resolution contains a provision calling for a reduction in OEO

Pension Hike Has Panel OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today by a straight party-line vote of 11 to 6, a bill to increase Social Security benefits by 15 per cent.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the chairman, said it would increase cash benefits paid out under the Social Security program by $3.6 billion next year.

For 1968, the payroll tax rate of 4.4 per cent on employee and employer would remain unchanged, but the taxable wage base would be raised from $6,000 to $8,000 effective Jan. 1. The higher benefit payments would be effective next March and would be reflected in checks sent out April 1.

The committee's Democrats voted solidly for the bill and the Republicans against it.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, the senior GOP member, said they felt the measure was irresponsibly financed.

Fulbright-Humphrey Clash On Asia Aims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reportedly clashed verbally over administration aims in Southeast Asia at a White House briefing on Wednesday.

Humphrey reported Wednesday to President Johnson Cabinet Security Council members and lawmakers of both parties on his Southeast Asia survey trip at a session in which attending Senate and House members were allowed one question each.

In the course of this round-robin, Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is said to have contended the administration is taking conflicting positions on what is trying to accomplish in Vietnam.

A persistent war policy critic, Fulbright reportedly cited the statements of U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg that the United States is fighting to insure the right of the South Vietnamese to political self-determination.

On the other hand, Fulbright reportedly said, Humphrey's recent statements have supported a thesis Johnson has laid down in recent utterances—that the real enemy is aggressive Asian communism, headquartered in Red China.

Fulbright has said a policy of containing Chinese Communist

Final Tributes Paid To Garner

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—Mourners pay final tributes today to former Vice President John Nance Garner who died Tuesday just a few days before his 99th birthday.

A special memorial service was planned at 12:30 p.m. EST at Uvalde High School auditorium. The principal speaker is Dolph Briscoe Jr., prominent rancher, business man, and friend of the Garner family for many years. Another speaker is Wayne Matthews, president of Southwest Texas Junior College to which Garner contributed generously.

All Uvalde schools and downtown business houses planned to close so students and employees could attend a 4 p.m. funeral service at a funeral home.

The Rev. Romilly Timmins said he would conduct the regular Episcopal funeral service about 15 minutes of prayers and Scripture readings without any sermon or eulogy.

The Rev. Mr. Timmins also will conduct a five-minute burial service at the Uvalde Cemetery where Garner's body will be placed beside the grave of Mrs. Garner who died in 1948.

Wilson's Party Demands Change

LONDON (AP) — A major revolt erupted inside Britain's ruling Labor party today against Prime Minister Harold Wilson's austerity policies, and a public opinion poll showed Wilson's popularity with the voters is dropping sharply.

More than 70 Laborite legislators signed a motion calling for an immediate change in the government's program to keep unemployment up this winter, partly to reduce imports and partly to encourage workers to shift to export industries.

Wilson failed in the House of Commons lobbies Wednesday night to head off an open revolt. Political sources said he offered the rebels a debate on employment policy in a closed party caucus but they rejected this attempt to take the heat out of the issue and went ahead with their censure motion.

A national opinion poll by the pro-conservative Daily Mail showed that 40 per cent of those questioned were satisfied with Wilson, compared with 54 per cent in the Mail's last poll Oct. 19. Opposition leader Edward Heath's rating climbed from 36 to 47 per cent. The poll showed

Miami 28-Story Courthouse Now Culture's Roost

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Miami's 20th century vultures — something like the swallows of Capistrano but more like the messy starlings of northern city halls — are back in town, once more forsaking the wilderness of the Everglades for gracious urban living.

Again they're soaring over bustling, neon-lit downtown Miami as though it were a game preserve.

The city-slicker vultures — with wing spreads up to six feet — decided 10 or 12 years ago that the Dade County courthouse, despite crowded conditions and the noise that goes with urban apartments, would make a good homestead.

Their less enlightened country cousins continued the tired, old migration to the Everglades. "It's unique. I don't know of any other city where vultures form as well as it did in the early stages.

Splashdown Of Apollo Planned This Afternoon

But the 140-ton orbiting vehicle is proof that America's lagging Apollo man-to-the-moon program has received a much-needed shot in the arm.

The Space Agency, under heavy pressure since three astronauts were killed in the Apollo 1 fire last January, undoubtedly will have its spirits lifted by a fantastic rocket performance that revives hopes this nation still can land men on the moon in this decade.

The 3,100-ton rocket started its historic space journey when its mammoth cluster of five first stage engines received the ignition signal after an exhaustive 40-hour countdown.

To prevent a potentially harmful surge of energy, the engines fired up milliseconds apart, gushing a torrent of red-orange flame over the launch pedestal.

Newsmen Cheer

Several hundred newsmen watching from a press site 3 1/2 miles from the launch pad cheered wildly as the rocket lifted off after a perfect countdown.

Several small fires were started around the launch pad as the exhaust seared the area with 4,000-degree heat.

The rocket screamed on its pad for 8.9 seconds as an electronic system made certain all five engines ignited properly and developed full thrust of 7.5 million pounds—five times more powerful than any booster previously fired by the United States and at least twice the thrust of any Russian rocket.

When the system sensed all was right, it commanded four 40,000-pound steel restraining arms to fold back to release the straining monster.

Then the Saturn 5—the "ultimate" rocket which the United States plans to use for at least the next two decades to probe the moon and planets—rose with agonizing slowness, climbing upward on a massive tail of exhaust flame.

The rocket required 12 seconds to clear its 400-foot-tall launch tower as it labored upward under the tremendous weight. Once clear of the tower, its guidance system tipped the launch vehicle over on an east-northeast heading and it gradually picked up speed as its massive powerplant gulped fuel at the fantastic rate of 15 tons a second.

Pontiac Plant Hit By Strike

PONTIAC (AP)—Members of United Auto Workers Local 653 walked off their jobs at the Pontiac Motor Division Wednesday night at the start of what they called a "24-hour walkout."

Wayne Anable, Local 653 president, said the union picketed the plant today to protest lack of settlements on past and present grievances, plus local working conditions.

Salaried workers were permitted to enter the plant today, and no disturbances were reported by police. About 17,000 workers are involved.

The company issued a statement blaming the union for not bargaining, charging it had rejected the company's plea to increase the frequency of negotiating sessions.

Local 653 spokesmen emphasized the walkout was not related to renewed bargaining on a national contract at General Motors, which is expected to get underway shortly.

Cardinal Will Aid The Lepers

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Paul Emilio Cardinal Leger, one of the leading progressives in the Roman Catholic hierarchy, has resigned as archbishop of Montreal to do missionary work among lepers in foreign lands and Pope Paul VI has accepted his resignation.

The announcement by the Vatican today caused some surprise in church circles, since Cardinal Leger at 65 is 12 years below the retirement age for diocesan prelates and his post is an important one.

But Cardinal Leger for a long time has been urging the pontiff to release him from his post. It was believed the Pope's decision was delayed until after the bishops' synod last month.

Another North American cardinal, Archbishop Richard Cushing of Boston, has also long desired to leave his post to do missionary work in Latin America. But Cardinal Cushing is 72 and in frail health, and the Pope has not given his approval.

The Vatican also announced that the Pope's doctors are still giving him antibiotics to combat the slight fever he has been running for three days.

A midday medical bulletin also indicated that the doctors have started removing stitches from the incision made for the Pope's prostate operation.

Royal Dinner Honors Jackie

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy passed up the sights of Bangkok today, pleading fatigue from her travels in Cambodia, and rested for the royal dinner being given in her honor tonight by King Bhumibol and Queen Sirikit.

Mrs. Kennedy's host Wednesday night, Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn, was told she had an upset stomach and hastily added American-style food as an alternative to the spicy Thai curries.

But Charles Bartlett, the Washington newsman who is a member of Mrs. Kennedy's party, said today she is not ill. "She's just tired from all the travel. We really worked touring those temples at Angkor," he said.

The party spent a week in Cambodia, including three days climbing around the ruined temples of the ancient Khmer city of Angkor.

The former U.S. first lady was to have visited Thailand's National Museum today to view priceless collections of Buddha heads, sculpture and woodcarving 1,000 years old.

Load Up Winter Table For Birds

By JIM CROSSLEY

So many Americans feed birds in winter that naturalists believe it is changing wildlife habits. More birds are staying north.

No wonder it's so popular. The birds are like animated winter flowers outside the window, decorative and esthetically satisfying.

This is the way to have pets, natural and self-sustaining, yet always there as good company, to be observed and to provide entertainment.

There's nothing difficult in getting started attracting birds. Regardless of the array of purchasable feeders, authorities think a flat table attached to the window sill on one side and with supports on the other is as good an arrangement as any.

Start with one 12-by-18 inches. At the beginning leave it unroofed and use chunks of white bread which the birds can see along with the feed.

After they've begun to call regularly, put on a slanting roof for protection from rain and snow. Keep the station as open as possible.

No metal — experts think it can injure birds' tongues when frosted.

If there is room, a 24-by-36 inch table is even better. It cuts down bickering and gives small birds an even chance. An alternative is to have a cluster of several stations, one on the ground for ground feeders, another at some distance for the timid.

Don't start attracting birds unless you're willing to continue to bear the expense of keeping it up or are ready to clean up the mess. They scatter seeds and hulls badly.

Squirrels, greedy and belligerent, can be a nuisance. It takes ingenuity to fashion squirrel guards. One inventive chap uses a pipe as a support post and smears it with fine machine oil.

Multiple feeding areas help here also and won't exclude the squirrels. Putting out smaller supplies of food several times a day, evens out the sharing.

Bird feed and sunflower seeds are staples at most stores these days. The range of menus provided by individuals in various parts of the country is amusing. Grass seed, cheese, grapes, dog feed, raisins, bone dust from the butcher, peanut butter mixed half-and-half with shortening are among them.

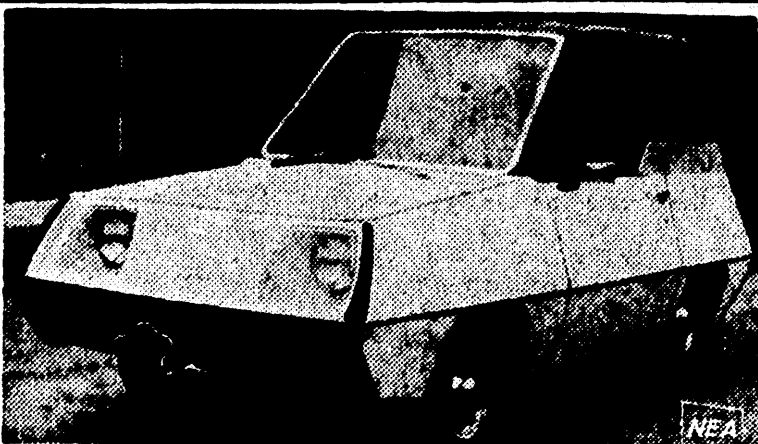

Those who grind corn meal fresh or raise meal-worms deserve to go into the Bird Lovers' Hall of Fame.

Some say a little pile of sand is a good idea because birds, like chickens, need grit. Others advise leaving some salt handy.

It is generally agreed that providing water is a good idea. Keeping it from freezing is the catch. Thermostatically controlled heaters, such as those used by poultrymen, seem the best solution.

There are many ways to be fancy. One family slips a microphone out a window and eats Sunday breakfast accompanied by the amplified chorus of chirps.

At least do this. If putting out a Christmas wreath as a decoration this year, wire a cup for sunflower seeds in hope the bird neighbors will find it as a little Christmas surprise.

ANOTHER ENTRY in the electric car sweepstakes has been unveiled by General Electric. Strictly a research model at this point, it is powered by an experimental lead-acid and nickel-cadmium battery system, accounting for 40 per cent of the car's 2,300 pounds, and can hit a maximum of 55 m.p.h. with a range of 100-200 miles at a cruising speed of 30-35 m.p.h.

Dixie Dual School System Must Go By Fall Of 1969

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has decided that all Southern school districts will have to totally dismantle dual school systems for whites and Negroes by the fall of 1969.

It is the first time officials of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare have set a hard date by which they expect complete compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The act prohibits federal support of any programs in which racial discrimination is practiced.

Spokesmen for HEW's Office for Civil Rights said in response to a reporter's inquiry that the decision has evolved over the past few months.

The decision apparently gained impetus from a recent report by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights criticizing HEW for achieving more desegregation sooner. The commission noted that some Negro children who began school after the Supreme Court outlawed separate but equal schools for Negroes in 1954 have gone all the way through school without having been in the same building with white students.

Libel Suit Asks $500,000 Damage From Auto Union

PONTIAC (AP) — A $500,000 libel suit has been filed against the international United Auto Workers and UAW Local 653 in Pontiac by a former president of the local.

Charles A. Beach of Pontiac contended in the suit that he was discredited in May 1965 by union officials through a letter published in the local newspaper, The Leader. He said the letter accused him of overcharging the union while performing his union duties.

A candidate for office of president at the time, Beach claimed the article was responsible for his losing the election two weeks later. He said he did not have sufficient time to clear himself of the charges.

Beach, the local's president from 1957 to 1961, also asked the court to enjoin the international union from enforcing a provision which prohibits him from holding office.

His petition said the international found him guilty of falsifying records pertaining to work hours available to him in his capacity as shop committee-man, and barred him from holding another office. He said in the suit that the decision was in error "in view of positive proof presented to the investigating body."

Even Home Folks Don't Dig LBJ

By TOM TIEDE
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (NEA) — These are trying days for the President of the United States. He's not even overly popular in his own home town.

Folks here hold Lyndon Johnson in no awe. They've marked the house of his birth and erected complimentary posters, but only through respect of rank. Personally, many are "disappointed in the man's administration."

Austin Casparis, for one, is disappointed. He's 85, and has known the President "since he was a pup," but feels his old friend's star is falling.

"He'll never," says Casparis, "be elected again."

Casparis gives his opinion sadly for he admits genuine fondness for Johnson. He can remember "Lyndon" helping construct the small sidewalk along which he now lives. He says, "He was always a damn good ole boy."

THE OLD HOME TOWN plays up the White House connection, but the home folks themselves have mixed feelings about Johnson City's most famous son.

Out of this respect, Casparis has never faltered as a Johnson fan. He insists he has never voted against the President and that he never will.

Still in all, he asserts, "Lyndon is doing wrong."

His opinion is widespread in this parched, sage-stubbed ranching region (cattle, sheep and goats). Whenever politics are discussed, townspeople say, at least half the conversation injures LBJ.

"It's not so much against Lyndon," explains Orlan Cox, whose wife is Lady Bird Johnson's cousin, "most of it's against Lyndon's policies."

Christmas Gift Camel For Texan

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas specialty store of Neiman-Marcus has confirmed the beastly truth. Some Texan has plunked down $2,100 to buy his or her mate a camel for Christmas.

The camel is half of the store's annual "his or hers" novelty gift offering. Past Christmases have featured "his or hers" submarines and bath tubs.

The name of the buyer was withheld, the store said, adding that it came from "outside the immediate Dallas area."

One policy in particular rankles the locals. That's the presidential stand on civil rights. Area feeling is that LBJ is at least partly responsible for racial trouble.

Says Casparis, "I don't think they (the Negroes) ought to have been given the freedom they have. I think Lyndon should have let them as they were. It was better all around that way."

Despite concern over racial freedom, however, Johnson City residents admit it has not affected the immediate community in the slightest.

"There's no trouble here," says Casparis.

The reason why is obvious. Aside from some farm laborers, (the President has several Negro employees at his LBJ ranch), the city lists no Negroes in its most recent census count. That count includes 847 whites.

The nearest Negro community is 20 miles southwest of town, near a map dot called Blanco. There, Negroes have colonized, purchased their own land and cattle and to some extent prospered.

Casparis says the colony works hard and bothers no one. Nonetheless, he is emphatically against any Negro expansion in the area.

Carry Card Or Lose Deferment Students Warned

WASHINGTON (AP) — College students who have turned in their draft cards to Selective Service offices as a protest gesture against the Vietnam war face the prospect of immediate callups.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, has told local Selective Service boards that college deferments should be denied men who refuse to carry their classification cards or who physically interfere with armed services recruiting officers visiting college campuses.

Hershey said registrants without their cards should be reclassified as available for service, with their names advanced to the top of the draft lists.

Not everyone in Johnson City shares the Casparis viewpoint on Negroes, of course. Nor does everyone share his viewpoint on the President. Local women, especially, are prone to be more tolerant on both issues.

A rancher's wife, sitting in a main street coin laundry, says that "All colored aren't bad, just some. Anyway, it's not Lyndon's fault they riot. He's just trying to help them."

Gift Will Build Planetarium For Jackson Schools

JACKSON (AP) — Peter Hurst, president of Aeroquip Corp., said that he will donate $75,000 to build a planetarium for Jackson County school children.

The planetarium will be named after Hurst, who made the announcement at the Union School District board meeting. The district, which includes Jackson and some adjacent areas, said it hopes to raise another $50,000 to build the planetarium itself. School officials said they plan to apply for a $25,000 federal grant to be matched by money paid by Jackson County school districts who want to make the planetarium available to their students.

Hurst said the building would hold 70 students at a session under a domed ceiling which would reflect the solar system when the planetarium machine is installed. Construction will begin shortly, he said. Commonwealth Associates, an architectural firm, said it would donate its services free.

The building will be constructed in the Ella Sharp Museum area, south of the city. Aeroquip makes parts for airplanes.

Insured Riot Loss Was $32 Million; Claims Dykhouse

WASHINGTON (AP) — The insurance commissioner of Michigan said Wednesday Detroit's insured riot loss this summer was $32 million, not $55 million as $85 million as estimated by the national advisory panel on insurance.

David Dykhouse, the Michigan official, testified before the panel, which is working with the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

The panel continues today two days of hearings on programs designed to help make property insurance more available in center city areas.

Both Dykhouse and Richard Roddis, insurance commissioner of California, emphasized the necessity for continuity of insurance coverage.

This was echoed by Henry Bison Jr., general counsel of the National Association of Retail Grocers. Bison asked for steps, including legislation when necessary, to prohibit capricious cancellation and nonrenewal of property insurance.

15-Story Capitol Plans Considered

LANSING (AP) — Members of the House-Senate Capital Outlay Committee are considering plans for a cube-shaped, 15-story capitol which would cost an estimated $40 million.

Sen. Frank D. Beale, R-St. Clair, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee and a member of the Joint Committee, said he hoped the appropriation for preliminary planning would be completed by 1968 and the final plans for 1969.

be the same as everybody else."

Another gal, cooling on the patio of Bob and Redda's Cafe, says: "A lot of men in this town are sitting on the fence concerning Lyndon. But the women are for him. We feel he's doing a good job, considering."

Local respect for the President is by no means confined to the ladies. In general, "everybody likes old Lyndon personally." Even his strongest critics are quick to make excuses for all the faults they find.

Observers explain that this respect may have more to do with LBJ's past than his present. He is, after all, a home-towner, a Democrat, and a Texan — a combination that attracts considerable honor hereabouts.

Yet, respectful, LBJ's neighbors are also realistic.

Some worry about race riots. Some feel taxes are too high. Others complain about that "damned" war "over there in Korea" (Vietnam).

"I like Lyndon," says Austin Casparis. "Always, always will. But things aren't going good. I believe if Lyndon's got any sense left at all he won't run in the next election and come on home for good."

Freed Of Prison After 30 Years

SANDUSKY (AP) — George Lord, 54, one of three Sandusky brothers convicted in the 1937 murder of their uncle, has been ordered freed from prison after a judge ruled his confession was involuntary.

Circuit Judge Arthur M. Bach said at the Sandusky hearing that Lord's confession had been given under duress. Lord has served 30 years in the state prison in Jackson. He was given a life sentence. His brothers, Delbert and Elmer, remain jailed. The judge said new statutes held the confession inadmissible.

The uncle, Charles Lord of Peck, was shot to death in his home Jan. 29, 1937 and $16,000 in money and notes were taken.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Detroit Says Library Grant Had Polley OK

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Library Commission announced that a disputed $300,000 grant from the State Board of Education was contained in documents submitted to the federal government by Ira E. Polley, state superintendent of public instruction.

The state board contends that the funds were approved only through "administrative error" and has asked the Detroit Library to give them back.

The commission voted to invite Polley from Lansing to discuss the dispute at its next meeting Nov. 21.

The funds are to be used to make the library's services available to all citizens in the six-county area of Southeastern Michigan.

Coho Threatened By Insect Spray

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — Indiscriminate insecticide spraying could kill off Michigan's spectacularly successful salmon planting program, the State Conservation Department and independent scientists are warning.

Department director Ralph MacMullan sounded the alarm when he came out against an Agriculture Department plan to spray parts of Berrien County with the chemical Dieldrin to kill Japanese beetles.

MacMullan's opposition to the program has backing from Charles Wurster Jr., an assistant professor of biological sciences at the State University of New York.

MacMullan said Lake Michigan already has a serious problem with the Dieldrin spraying and the Dieldrin spraying would make it worse.

Peril To Reproduction Preliminary studies have shown that the amount of DDT present in Coho salmon and trout has reached such a level among these Lake Michigan fish it could be critical to their reproduction, MacMullan said.

To add Dieldrin to this environment now will only compound the problem because this chemical has been found to be a potent salmonicide.

There is nothing that changes our Coho program, MacMullan said. The continued use of Dieldrin is necessary to protect the fishery from the Japanese beetle.

Wurster has offered an alternative that stresses the danger of Dieldrin as part of the program. He is asking the agriculture department to stop spraying and the use of DDT.

of DDT by local communities to control Dutch elm disease.

Suit In Court

The suit is being brought in the U. S. District Court at Grand Rapids by Environmental Defense Inc., a group of scientists and laymen concerned about the problem.

"The residues of DDT, and to a lesser extent Dieldrin, seem to be almost everywhere," Wurster said. "They are found in the air and come down in the rain. They occur in soils, waters and in the bodies of most animal organisms."

"They are found on birds and seals that never leave the Antarctic, while birds that never come near a spray area are heavily contaminated."

Sometimes, he said, less than half of the chemical sprays released from an airplane reach their target on the ground.

"Once in the air, these materials can completely circle the globe in two weeks," he said.

"Increased nervousness, hyperactivity, and a variety of neurotic and behavioral symptoms occur in organisms carrying sublethal concentrations of DDT or Dieldrin," Wurster said.

Life Or Death

Wurster said just a few parts per billion of these chemicals can upset temperature control mechanisms in young salmon. A factor that could spell the difference between life and death in a natural, competitive environment of wide temperature fluctuations.

Fish populations within the Great Lakes must be of special concern when the application of Dieldrin or DDT is contemplated," Wurster said.

The use of DDT in New Brunswick, Canada, the most extensive and best documented destruction of salmon and other fish that has ever resulted from insecticide application, he reported. "Lake salmon runs were virtually eliminated."

The proposed application of Dieldrin, which is generally more toxic than DDT to the very shores of Lake Michigan, represents a highly dangerous procedure that is scientifically indefensible in 1967," Wurster declared.

Watch Kept On Salmon Quality

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Coho salmon now reaching the commercial market are perfect, the State Conservation Department said.

Contrary to some reports, no Coho salmon now being sold are in any way inferior, said Deputy Director Warren Shanton.

Shanton said.

Just as soon as there is any indication that the quality of the fish had deteriorated, we'll cut off the sales at the source and we control the source."

The food inspection division of the State Agriculture Department and the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries are conducting taste tests and other checks of the fish.

The fish, remainder of Michigan's first big salmon run, are being dipped out of streams by the department and sold to commercial fishermen.

Code Hearing

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A public hearing on a new and tougher open housing code was set for Dec. 5 by the City Commission Wednesday. The new code would replace existing provisions of the city code and would contain prohibitions against "blockbusting" by real estate agents while allowing for neighborhood action to preserve existing integration and guard against racial "imbalance."

After 7 Years, Brothers Visit In Germany

Two brothers from Gladstone, both serving with the U. S. Army in Europe, had their first reunion in seven years recently at the unlikely place of Berchtesgaden, Germany.

Spec. 6 Gerald F. Moore, 34, is stationed at Izmir, Turkey, but went to Berchtesgaden for a Cub Scout leaders conference. When he arrived, he telephoned his brother, Spec. 6 Donald, 29, who was stationed about 85 miles away at Bad Tolz, Germany.

After seven years apart, the 85 miles wasn't a major obstacle and the brothers and families spent two days together.

Gerald Moore is married to the former Margaret Clark of Gladstone. Donald's wife is the former Judy Martin of Escanaba. Both men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Moore, Lake Shore Dr., Gladstone.

Insurance Study

LANSING (AP) — Creation of a special legislative committee to study the problems of obtaining insurance in potential riot areas was approved by the House Wednesday. The 10-member committee, already authorized by the Senate, will study the feasibility and mechanics necessary to encourage and foster adequate property insurance protection for Michigan residents and businesses.

Key to a boy's dead end.

Your car keys.
Hanging there in your unlocked car.
An open invitation to a joyride.
(76% of stolen cars were left unlocked. About half also had ignition keys in them.) Very tempting in a young boy's moment of weakness. And very dangerous. Stolen cars have 200 times more accidents. That's one dead end. And car theft is often the first offense that later turns a boy into a full-time criminal. That's the other dead end.

Don't help a good boy go bad.

Grass Lake Girl Is New Farm Bureau Queen

LANSING (AP)—Kav Eschelbach, 17, of Grass Lake, today reigns as Michigan Farm Bureau Queen for 1968.

Miss Eschelbach's crowning highlighted the Farm Bureau's annual convention this week at Michigan State University and Lansing's Civic Center.

A high school senior, the pert brunette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Eschelbach. She is president of her student council, editor of the school yearbook and a member of the National Honor Society. Last summer Miss Eschelbach lived in Ireland as a foreign exchange student.

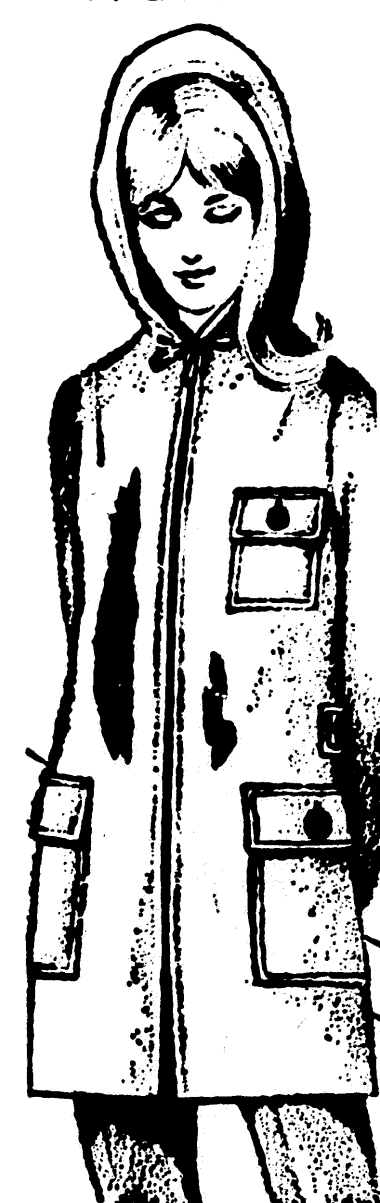

Active in the choir and youth fellowship of her local Methodist church, the new Farm Bureau queen plans to become a nurse because she feels "a duty to serve people who need love and care."

The 1968 queen was selected from a field of 19 contestants judged on poise, beauty, speaking ability, vitality, farm background and community activity. She will represent the Michigan Farm Bureau at official functions throughout the coming year, including the American Farm Bureau Federation annual convention in Chicago later this year.

Cheryl L. Wood Bride Of William R. Wanic

Miss Cheryl Lee Wood of Escanaba became the bride of William Richard Wanic of River 2, Bark River during a ceremony performed Saturday, Oct. 28 at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba.

Officiating at the double ring nuptials at 5:30 p.m. was Rev. Allen Mayotte, a cousin of the bride. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Wood of 315 S. 5th St. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wanic of Bark River, Rte. 2.

Peau de Soie
For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of white peau de soie with an overlay of brocade, styled with a soft cowl neckline, three quarter length brocade sleeves and chapel length train.

A beaded headpiece held her elbow length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of lavender orchids.

Mrs. Brian Wood was matron of honor for her sister-in-law and bridesmaids were Valerie Wozniacki of Detroit and Clara Wanic, sister of the bridegroom.

They wore floor length gold Empire gowns with matching pillbox headpieces and short veils and carried wicker baskets filled with fall flowers in shades of gold and orange.

Serving as bestman was Brian Wood, brother of the bride and groomsmen were Stephen Wood, brother of the bride and David Wanic, brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were Dennis Wood and Roger Wanic.

HURLEY'S
Secrets of Beauty

So-called normal hair is the envy of many women because it holds a hairdo long after no-so-normal hair begins to pose its usual problems. This envied normal hair is a natural gift, but to maintain its attraction of softness, sheen and easy manageability it does require fairly regular care. Scalp circulation through brushing and massage, regular washing every week or ten days and occasional conditioning treatment between shampoos will ensure against normal hair developing abnormal tendencies.

Whether your hair is normal, fine and flimsy as the fuzz on a week-old duckling or as unmanageable as the quills on a frightened porcupine, HURLEY'S HAIR FASHIONS has a ready solution. Seriously, whatever your problem, let us solve it for you... quickly and beautifully... at HURLEY'S HAIR FASHIONS... 111 North 9th... Phone 786-0663.

Charles Cole of Saginaw was the flower girl and carrying the rings was Stephen Pelouquin.

Mothers' Attire
Mrs. Wood wore for her daughter's wedding a three piece antique gold raw silk suit with matching accessories and Mrs. Wanic chose a green wool coat and dress ensemble also with matching accessories. Both mothers were presented corsages of yellow roses.

The wedding reception was held from 8:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Marco's Starlight Room followed by a dance from 8:30 to 12 midnight.

Following a wedding trip to Minnesota, the newlyweds will reside in Escanaba. Both young people are graduates of Holy Name High School.

MANISTIQUE Rev. N. Cushman To Be Ordained

A special service of Ordination for the Rev. Nelson Cushman, pastor of Hancock Methodist Church and former Schoolcraft County Agricultural Extension Agent, will be held at the First Methodist Church of Manistique, Sunday, Nov. 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Cushman graduated from Garrett Theological Seminary in June of this year and was appointed to the Methodist Church at Hancock. He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Manistique at the time he made his decision to enter the ministry.

The service will be conducted by the pastor of the church Rev. William G. Kelsey, assisted by Rev. James Balfour, Superintendent of the Marquette District of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church, and by Rev. Thomas Beaven, pastor of the Ironwood Methodist Church and district member of the board of ministerial training and qualifications.

Rev. Cushman will bring the message "Why I Entered The Ministry." Special music for the service will be provided by the church organist, Mrs. William Mueller, the church choir, and Rev. Kelsey.

The service will be preceded by a "Pot-Luck" Supper in the church Fellowship Hall at 6:30 p.m.

Friends of Rev. Cushman are invited to attend the supper, the service, or both. Those attending the supper are asked to bring a dish and table service. Beverage will be provided.

County Board Meets Tuesday

The Schoolcraft Board of Supervisors will meet Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 7 p.m., and will consider as part of its agenda a lease agreement for construction of a hangar at the airport for a private plane. The plane owner will provide the finances, it was indicated.

David Nordin, new director of the Schoolcraft Welfare department will be introduced and a county zoning ordinance will be submitted. A resolution on public-land-law review commission will be considered.

A report will be presented by the county extension director on listing of lands for sale in the county. Airport, medical care facility, treasurer, tax directors, and building and grounds committee reports will be received.

Also to be presented is a report by the sheriff's department on 1967 expenditures. The report contains a listing of expenses, and revenue of $18,000 appropriated by the county board. Wages and salaries for the year will total about $16,900, leaving $1,100 for other expenses. The amount over budget for the year is expected to total $7,774.77. Prisoner meals are expected to total $3,700 and hospital, medical, and dental expenses for prisoners, about $225.

Seney Refuge Open To Hunt

SENEY—The Seney National Wildlife Refuge will open its gates to deer hunters. Approximately 85,000 of the 85,000 acre federal refuge will be open to deer, bear, fox and coyote hunting during the regular State season from Nov. 18 through Dec. 3.

Several special regulations will be in effect during the season. Camping is permitted only west of the Driggs River with federal and state camping permits being required. The camping permits, plus a copy of special regulations and a map of the refuge will be available at refuge headquarters located just off Highway M-77 two miles north of Germantown and five miles south of Seney.

In order to avoid embarrassment or prosecution for trespass within the closed area all persons hunting the refuge should pick up and read copies of the special regulations and the map. Especially important is that snow sleds, motorcycles, trail bikes and similar conveyances are not allowed on the refuge.

For the first time a new road of 1.1 miles will be open to hunters allowing better access along the north boundary. Entrance to this road may be gained off Highway M-26 through the Walsh road siding located about 11 miles west of Seney.

The hunting area will be opened on Nov. 17 at 8 a.m. to allow hunters to set up camp and scout the terrain. Refuge Manager John Willbrecht emphasized that in addition to the special regulations all Michigan state laws are in effect and will be enforced.

Copies of the special regulations and the map may be obtained by mail from Refuge Manager, Seney National Wildlife Refuge, Seney, Mich. 49883.

St. Alban's Plans Folk Song Mass

A "Folk Song Mass" written by Rev. Ian D. Mitchell, an Episcopal priest, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 12 and Sunday, Nov. 19 in St. Alban's Episcopal Church.

The choir for the service will consist of St. Alban's choir and a number of singers from other churches of Manistique. Guitar music will be used with the organ and will be played by Mrs. Richard Marsh and Mrs. Sallis Winch-Diller. Mrs. James Fyvie will be organist.

There will be emphasis on youth attendance at the service Nov. 19. The service, planned to emphasize new trends in church music to experiment in new liturgical forms of worship is open to anyone.

"Although the service and music is in the context of the Episcopal Communion service, it is hoped members, friends and guests will feel free to worship God as the music and service moves them to worship. Each Christian person holds dear the meanings of the Lord's Supper, the Holy Communion, the memorial and Remembrance, the Eucharist or the Mass. Whatever the feeling one has, the service is done with the hope that those who attend will feel free to participate as much or as little as they wish. The service as a whole is being done in music and words as an offering to God," Rev. Kenneth F. Connor, vicar, said.

School Board
There will be a meeting of the Big Bay de Noc School Board on Monday Nov. 13, at the Garden School.

TAKES A REST
The Australians say that a dingo will hunt kangaroos for his master for just about eight hours. When that period has elapsed, the dingo just lies down to rest.

Purdue Grid Star Makes Strong All-America Bid

CHICAGO (AP) — Along with the Big Ten football title, the All-America bids of some prime midwest candidates may be at stake when Leroy Keyes-paced Purdue collides with defensive-ly strong Minnesota Saturday at Lafayette, Ind.

Keyes, national scoring leader and an incredible performer for nationally fifth-ranked Purdue, gets his severest test as one of the Big Ten's most spectacular players since Michigan's Tom Harmon.

It was Minnesota which consistently shackled Harmon in classic showdowns back in 1939 and 1940 when the Wolverine halfback won national scoring honors, the last Big Ten performer to do so.

As Minnesota and Purdue match 4-0 conference records, the Gophers will have All-America candidates of their own: end Bob Stein, tackle Mc Kinley Boston and halfback Tom Sakal as defensive kingpins trying to zero in on the versatile Keyes.

They have been mighty links in a Minnesota defensive chain which has yielded an average of only conference 5.5 points in an overall Gopher 6-1 record, the same Purdue has fashioned rolling to a 37.3-point league average.

Purdue has other standouts besides Keyes meriting All-America consideration. They include sophomore quarterback, Mike Phipps, Big Ten leader in passing and total offense; offensive guard Bob Sebeck; fullback Perry Williams; and defensive linemen George Olton and Chuck Kyle.

By way of lauding 191-pound Williams, Gopher Coach Murray

Warmath said this week: "There's probably not another team in the country with running backs to match Keyes and Williams."

Other Midwest candidates still rated highly by The Associated Press Midwest screening board include:

Kevin Hardy, 6-foot 5, 285-pound defensive tackle, and quarterback Terry Hanratty of ninth-ranked Notre Dame; halfback Ron Johnson of lowly Michigan; the nation's sixth best rusher; and unbeaten Indiana's great sophomore trio of quarterback Harry Gonso, halfback John Isenbarger and flanker Jade Budge.

Recovering from an early season injury, Hardy has superbly anchored a steadily improving Irish young front defensive line. Hanratty, nation's No. 9 passer, is approaching a number of all-time Notre Dame aerial records.

Michigan's Johnson, scooting 815 yards in seven games, needs only 70 yards to break Harmon's all-time Wolverine rushing record of 84 for a single season.

Gonso, Isenbarger and Butcher have been key players in Indiana's surprising march to a 7-0 record. They set their toughest test of the campaign against deposed champion Michigan State Saturday at East Lansing.

Piston Rally Catches New York Knick Quint

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, on the fourth quarter shooting of Dave Bing and Terry Dischinger stopped New York's four-game winning streak as the Pistons topped the Knicks 110-106 Wednesday night.

Trailing 84-79 after three quarters, the Pistons surged in front to build up an 11-point lead with 1:34 left, but had to hang on to fight off the Knicks and post their third straight victory.

Dischinger and Bing each flipped in nine points in the closing drive. It was a three-point play by Dischinger followed by another basket that made it 93-90 for the Pistons with 6:41.

Bing and John Drewry then joined Dischinger to build Detroit's margin to 110-99.

Piston Rookies Are Farmed Out

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons announced after the one-day season game that rookie forward Sonny Dove and rookie guard Paul Long will be farmed out to the Pontiac Tomahawks of the North American Basketball League after the Pistons game with St. Louis in Detroit Friday night.

General Manager Edwin E. Coil said that both players would continue to practice with the Pistons and would likely appear with the team in several games. Coach Dennis Butcher explained that neither rookie had seen much action with the Pistons and both were in need of considerable work.

Dove has appeared briefly in six games averaging 2.7 points while Long has averaged 3.3 in three games.

Hill To Resign Cage Job At End Of Current Year

HERMANVILLE — Coach Don Hill, beginning his final year as basketball coach at Hermansville High School, has four lettermen among 17 candidates drilling daily in preparation for season opener Nov. 22 against Big Bay de Noc.

"At the end of the current basketball season and school year I am resigning my position as basketball coach at Hermansville High School," Hill announced this week. "The dual jobs of coach and administrator (Hill is also superintendent of schools) are becoming more complex and time-consuming each year. One of the jobs has to be relinquished. "My administrative contract runs until June 30, 1968. At that date I will know more about my future plans," the veteran mentor added.

A Norway High School graduate and former Michigan University athlete, Hill has been coaching 16 years and has compiled an impressive record. His Hermansville varsity teams have won 226 games while losing 66 for a 77.4 winning percentage. His teams won conference championships eight times, district titles six times, state Class B crowns twice and the Holiday Tournament championship once.

Five Vets, Top Scorer Back On Perkins Outfit

PERKINS — Five lettermen, two of them seniors, will form the nucleus of the Perkins High School basketball team this season.

Back in the fold for Coach Verne Nelson are seniors Art VanDamme and Bill Nelson and juniors Paul McNutt, Larry Couillard and Gary Aper.

VanDamme, 6 foot 3, was the leading scorer on last year's team that won eight of 20 games. McNutt is also 6-3. Moving up from last year's junior varsity squad are seniors Mike Lauscher and Wally Sparks, juniors Victor LaCrosse and sophomores Joe Couillard and Ken Simonsen.

Lost through graduation were Gary Simonsen, Don Bannister, Mark Depuydt, David Van-team include seniors Dennis Grenier, John Paul St. Juliana, Art LeBomard and Bob Wellington, juniors Dennis Gustafson, Tom Menard and Rick Arduin, sophomores Steve Framarin, Rich Lungehausen and Keith LaRoche and freshmen John Dani, Eugene Bellmore and Tim Faccio.

Lost through graduation were Jack Marana, Doug LaCoursier and Leonard Wellington. The Redskin schedule:

Eben Has Five Veterans Back On Cage Squad

EBEN — Coach Jim Jacobson has five lettermen, all of whom started at one time or another last season, back on his Eben High School cage squad this year.

The returning veterans are seniors Pete Niemi, Paul Salminen, Jim Seppanen, Terry Hakola and junior Dan Maki. "We don't have great height but we are quicker this year and have two guards in Pete Niemi and Terry Hakola who are starting their third varsity season," the Eagle mentor said.

Mira Seeking Regular Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Mira, an understudy quarterback, who wants a chance to play, said Wednesday he likely will go into court to get it.

Mira told the San Francisco Chronicle he had been advised by Creighton Miller, National Football League Players Association attorney, that he would recommend taking the case to court if Mira is unable to deal with any club he wants after playing out his option with the San Francisco 49ers.

"All I want is a chance to go to a club where I might have an opportunity to be a starter," Mira said.

He has been an understudy to the 49ers John Brodie for three years.

Comets Lose Scoring Ace

TRENARY — The Trenary Comets, coming off a brilliant 17-2 record last season, must fill the shoes of the greatest scorer in the school's history this year.

Among the players lost through graduation from last season's Central League championship club was 6 foot 1 inch Kim Peterson who won the Upper Peninsula regular season scoring title with 554 points and averaged 17 rebounds per game.

Other players missing through graduation will be Ron Begovac, Glenn Lockhart and Terry Kayser.

Coach Steve Ellis has eight players with experience on his squad this year. They are seniors Jack Mikulich, Randy Stine, Jim Cayer and John Trotter and juniors Gary Hager, Tim Harris, Greg Begovac and Curtis Cady. Rounding out the squad are juniors Clyde Dartt and Donald Joels and sophomore Don Sandstrom. Stine is the tallest player on the team at an even 6-feet.

The Trenary schedule:
Nov. 17 — Rock here
Nov. 21 — Perkins there

Michigan Eyes Illinois Plays

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan football team held a "chalk" workout Wednesday in preparation for its Big Ten game against Illinois at Champaign Saturday.

The practice included offensive and defensive work against Illinois play and also featured a drill in punts and punt returns.

Coach Bump Elliott said, "I assume we will use a more diversified offense against Illinois than we did against Northwestern."

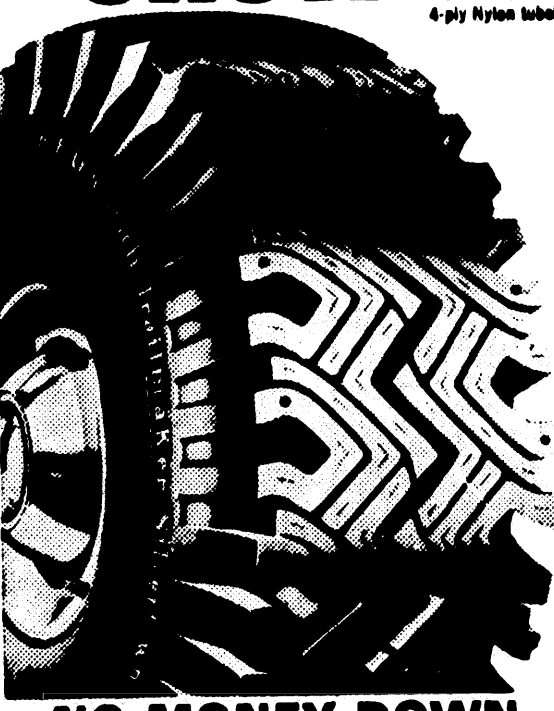

In last Saturday's Wolverine victory over Northwestern only halfback Ron Johnson and quarterback Dennis Brown ran the ball. However, Elliott added, "What we use will depend on what we expect them to use."

Next To People, Rats Rule Earth

By ROGER DOUGHTY
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Most people have a low opinion of rats, but rats don't think very much of people either, according to Dr. Richard G. Van Gelder, chairman of the department of mammalogy at the American Museum of Natural History here.

"Just for the record," says Van Gelder, "my real interest in life is skunks, but I also greatly admire rats. They're aggressive, destructive and opportunistic, or, to put it another way, a great deal like people. Rats may be No. 2, but they try much harder."

Just how hard rats try can be attested to by the experts at the Orkin Exterminating Co., who figure that the rat is the second most abundant mammal (man is first, of course) on earth.

As a matter of fact, rats are responsible for some pretty nasty goings-on around the world. At least three dozen different diseases are spread by rats and eight of them rate right up there with the worst things that can happen to you.

Dr. Harold Brown, professor of parasitology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University, says that rats are responsible for two forms of rat bite fever, salmonella, Weil's disease, a form of tapeworm called Hymenolepis diminuta, trichinosis, endemic typhus and plague.

Plague, of course, wiped out one-third of the population of Europe in 1665 and it's still with us today, although the 1665 epidemic is in a class by itself.

The biggest problem with rats is that there are so many of them around. There are at least 100 million in the United States (as opposed to 200 million people) and they're prolific breeders. The Orkin people estimate that two rats (provided they got along well) could under ideal conditions produce 350 million descendants in three years. Fortunately, conditions are rarely ideal and the life expectancy of the rat is less than one year.

But, just like the hero on the television epic, Run for Your Life, the short-lived rat packs a lot of adventure into that one year. Rats manage to bite more than 14,000 Americans each year and they do at least $1 billion worth of damage.

"It's a hard fact to believe," says Earl Geiger, Orkin's executive vice president, "but in India there's more grain lost to rats each year than the United States can supply in foreign aid. What we're doing is supplying foreign aid for the rats."

Despite the enormity of the problem, Geiger feels that the question of what to do about rats is just too big for the federal government to handle. It would cost more than the Vietnam war to solve the problem.

"IT'S A HARD FACT TO BELIEVE," says an exterminating official, "but in India there's more grain lost to rats each year than the United States can supply in foreign aid. What we're doing is supplying foreign aid for the rats."

lem, and any solution drawn on tax dollars would have to be temporary.

According to Geiger, "89 per cent of the buildings in one slum section of Brooklyn are more than 30 years old. They are literally rat traps. But as soon as the government, in any form, comes into the picture there's a sharp drop in individual responsibility, and that's the one thing most needed to solve the problem."

The magnitude of the rat problem is underscored by the fact that while at least nine federal agencies are involved in rat control in some way, there is no over-all co-ordination of these activities nor is there any single agency applying a completely concerted effort in this area.

As one pest control expert sees Washington's position at the moment, "They have $40 million in funds approved and no program mapped out to use the money. It's too much of a 'play it by ear' kind of thing."

The solutions to the rat problem may be so simple that they're difficult to see, from Washington or anywhere else. "What you have to do," says

Geiger, "is eliminate the harbor tax dollars would have to be temporary. rats, protect structures against rat penetration and then exterminate as many of the remaining rats as you can. It's foolish to say that you can exterminate or sterilize 100 million rats. There are no magic solutions or modern Pied Pipers involved. It's a case of cleaning up the slums and keeping them that way."

As an example, Geiger points to New York's East Side-West Side contrast. "You find many more rats on the West Side," he says, "because that's where the slum conditions prevail to a greater extent. It's that simple. If the slums disappeared, the rats would, too. But we live in a society where you can be fined $50 for littering a parkway but only fined $10 for throwing garbage out a tenement window."

And, as Van Gelder sees it, "Rats were walking the face of the earth a long time before man and we have every reason to believe they'll be around after man is gone. You just have to learn to live with them."

Kelley, Young, Hare Plan State Contract Probe

LANSING (AP)—Three Democratic state officials said Wednesday they will conduct a joint survey of present state contracting and building practices and procedures.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, Secretary of State James Hare and Sen. Coleman Young said they will attempt to determine if contracting and building practices adequately protect the public interest.

Whether new legislation or administrative action is needed.

Whether there is such evidence of wrongdoing as would require an investigation.

Kelley and Republican Gov. George Romney recently petitioned the State Court of Appeals for a grand jury investigation of alleged wrongdoing in the State Highway Department.

Hare had proposed a look be taken at all contracts considered by the Administrative Board.

Lynda Is First White House Bride In 53 Years

LYNDA BIRD JOHNSON joins pastry chef Clement Maggia to admire her finished wedding cake at the White House. The five-layer cake is an old-fashioned pound cake five feet tall. (AP Wirephoto)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson walks his daughter, Lynda Bird, down the red-carpeted, marble halls of the White House today into the history books as the 14th White House bride.

The great presidential mansion was aglow with red and white flowers, mistletoe and a Christmas atmosphere for its first wedding of a president's daughter in 53 years.

In the great gold and white East Room, 240 twinkling white candles sparkled amid an evergreen backdrop for a simple white altar that waited for Lynda, 23, and her bridegroom, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb 28, to exchange vows of holy matrimony.

It was as romantic a setting as any girl could want and hundreds of persons—from cooks to carpenters—had helped make it possible.

The bride-to-be had said she wanted to sleep late this morning, but the White House had a pre-dawn starting schedule for the big wedding day.

4 P. M. Ceremony

Everything about the 4 p.m. EST wedding had been rehearsed—even the kisses of the bride couple. But there were scores of last-minute details to be attended to.

The week-long round of pre-nuptial partying had left Lynda and Chuck a bit exhausted.

The windup wedding-eve dinner lasted until a bit past midnight. But it provided the bride couple with a gay, musical version of a wedding and some of the pitfalls of married life.

Broadway stars Carol Lawrence and Gordon MacRae, dressed in bridal attire, sang excerpts from the musical "I Do, I Do" for Lynda's bridal party in the candle-lit atmosphere of a private Georgetown club.

President Nervous

When the stars finished their numbers, including some showing the typical kiss-and-make-up squabbles, Lynda laughingly asked Miss Lawrence: "Is that what it's really like?"

President Johnson, who said he was quite nervous, like any father of the bride, provided a humorous and sentimental

U.P. Dairymen Will Fight Milk Substitutes With Ads

ON THE PROGRAM for the Friday meeting of the Menominee County Local of the Michigan Milk Producers Association at Tony Hirsch's Hall at Gardner in Menominee County were, from left, seated: Roy Rasner, Wallace, Daniel Schlenovgt, Stephenson; Charles Donaldson, Daggett; Kenneth Corey, and Alfred Palmer, Stephenson, directors of the Local; and standing: Maurice Barrett, Marquette, marketing representative in the U. P. of the Michigan Milk Producers Association; Don Carlson, Lansing, American Dairy Association; Vernon Bingham, state marketing specialist, Michigan Milk Producers Association; and Clarence Voeke, Menominee field man for the MMPA. (Daily Press Photo)

Milk Producers In Menominee Vote War Fund

By JEAN WORTH GARDNER — There was no shooting at Tony Hirsch's Hall here Friday afternoon, but there was occasion to recall the poet's lines:

"Here the embattled farmers stood
And fired the shot heard round the world..."

There was no Revolutionary War starting, but there was an industrial war beginning and the farmers attending a meeting of the Menominee County Local of the Michigan Milk Producers Association voted 28 to 3 in a straw poll for creation of a Michigan Dairyman's Market Program under authority of the Michigan Agricultural Commodities Marketing Act of 1965. The Market Program, which can be created if two-thirds of the state's Class A milk producers vote for it, would authorize deductions of 3.5 cents for every 100 pounds of milk from Upper Peninsula milk checks and 4 cents downstate for a fund to advertise dairy products and do research in development of dairy products.

Life Or Death

This straw poll action showed that Menominee County's dairy farmers — the most numerous and productive of any U.P. county group — regard their fight against imitation milk which is now starting as a fight for their business lives. Imitation milk isn't sold in Michigan yet, but it is coming.

Elected

Menominee County Local, MMPA, on Friday elected as a director for three years, Charles Donaldson, Daggett dairyman and chairman of the Michigan State Commission of Agriculture, and for one year, Alfred Palmer, Stephenson dairyman. Sherman Wilson was elected delegate to the MMPA and Gordon Philbeck was elected alternate.

fast. It is now sold in seven western states and it already accounts for three per cent of the sales of fluid "milk" sales in Arizona. If that were a national condition, and it's certainly a likely prospect, it would mean a $500 a year loss to the average dairy farmer.

"Imitation" milk is of two kinds. Most familiar now in the dairy cases of supermarkets in Arizona, California, Oregon, Idaho, Illinois and other states where it's sold as "filled" milk, which is usually natural milk "filled" with vegetable fats instead of butterfat and fully imitation "chemical" milk made from ingredients like caseinate.

No Promotion

The 75 Menominee County dairy farmers and their wives meeting here were told by Vernon Bingham, Detroit director of marketing, Michigan Milk Producers Association, and Don Carlson, Lansing, American Dairy Association, that only they can compete with the imitation milk that is going to be appearing in the supermarkets in an increasing flow.

The "handler" of milk — the dairy plants — the dairy industry experts said, is now making so little profit — if any at all — that he cannot be counted upon to promote dairy products. He lacks the means.

The supermarkets aren't promoting dairy products. They often use them as "loss leaders" to attract customers to their stores, selling them below cost food in most families. Supermarkets don't promote one product over another. They carry 8,000 items and stock their shelves to satisfy customers demand. They cannot be counted upon for any promotion of dairy products in the competition of cows' milk and imitation milk.

488 U. P. Shippers
If there's going to be a fight to save the dairy industry it will have to be waged by the dairy farmers themselves, they were told. They'll have to use part of their milk checks to promote dairy products by advertising and by research. There

Peru Air Crash Kills 67 Persons

HUANUCO, Peru (AP) — Searchers pulled burned and mud-smudged bodies today from jungle underbrush on the rim of the Andes Mountains where a Peruvian airliner crashed in flames Friday, killing everyone aboard. Sixty-seven persons, including four Americans, were believed on the flight.

The Faucett Airlines four-engine DC6 plowed low into the side of Cerro Carpi mountain near midday, about 15 minutes after it took off from Huanuco with a load of holiday weekend passengers bound for the mountain resort of Tingo Maria.

The flight had stopped briefly at Huanuco en route from Lima, 155 miles to the north. Farmers who heard the crash later led police through thick vegetation to the wreckage scattered near a forest highway.

"Most of the bodies were burned and the others completely destroyed," said Col. Carlos Farje Allende, who led the first party to the shattered liner. Identification was difficult, he reported.

There was no explanation for the crash. A spokesman for Faucett said the plane was believed to have carried 67 persons—six crew members, 45 passengers from Lima and 16 who boarded in Huanuco. Although all were booked to Tingo Maria, the airline said it had not determined if anyone left the plane here.

The aircraft was packed because of the Roman Catholic holiday of the Immaculate Conception. All stores and offices in the country were closed and many persons took advantage of the three-day weekend to travel. Included in the passenger list were 17 foreigners — the four Americans, an English diplomat and his wife, four French nationals, two Belgians and five Italians.

The Americans included Joseph Newman, 60, Las Vegas, Nev., and Robert and Corrine Houck, both 54, of Barberton, Ohio.

Mrs. and Mrs. Houck had been visiting their daughter, Joyce, 30, a missionary nurse at Huanuco.

The fourth American killed was identified as Evelyn Craig, 47. Her address was not given.

The British Embassy identified the diplomat as John White, 40, the embassy's first secretary and consul. His wife, Vivian, was flying with him.

Escanaba Sailor, Robert Moras, Dies In Vietnam

Robert J. Moras, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moras, 220 N. 19th St., became Escanaba's second victim of the Vietnam war Dec. 4 when he was killed by hostile fire in a Naval operation in Dinh Tuong province.

According to a telegram received by his parents, he was serving aboard a Naval vessel conducting a combat riverine assault operation in South Vietnam when the ship was struck by recoilless rifle and automatic weapons fire.

His body is being returned to the Anderson Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements will be completed later.

Escanaba's first victim of the Vietnam war was Army Spec. 4 Richard Johnson, 26, who died May 7.

Three other young men from the area—Pfc. Dwight Stockholm of Gladstone, and Pfc. Joseph Jenks and Seaman Thomas Tiglas, both of Manistique—also have died in the war.

Robert J. Moras was born May 16, 1946, in Escanaba. He was a 1965 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and at one time was a carrier salesman for the Daily Press.

He entered the Navy in August, 1965, and completed recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Station.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Church of Escanaba. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Moras; three brothers, Jerry, Dale and Allan, all of Escanaba; two sisters, Mrs. Ed (Darlene) Thiel of Toledo, O., and Linda of Escanaba; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Buckland of Escanaba; his paternal grandfather, William Moras of Escanaba; and two nephews and one niece.

Spaceman Dies In Jet Crash

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Maj. Robert H. Lawrence Jr., America's first Negro astronaut, has been killed in the crash of an F4 Starfighter jet as it landed after a routine training flight.

An Air Force spokesman called him "one of those young bright guys with everything going for him."

Lawrence, 31, was preparing a project for the Defense Department to orbit two men on a space laboratory in 1970.

The Chicago-born Lawrence was the ninth U.S. astronaut to die. The others were assigned to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Five died in accidents earlier this year.

The F4, "a missile with a man in it" which travels twice the speed of sound, smashed onto a runway after the flight Friday at Edwards Air Force Base and spurted "a little fire," an Air Force spokesman said.

A second occupant, Maj. Harvey J. Royer, was injured. Royer, 36, chief of operations for the Air Force's Aerospace Research Pilot School, was hospitalized with undisclosed injuries.

The Air Force appointed a board of officers to investigate. No other details of the crash were made public.

Lawrence, selected as an astronaut-designee in June, was one of 16 military officers in training for the MOL Project—the Manned Orbiting Laboratory program. The group was made up of 12 Air Force officers, three Navy men and one Marine.

Lawrence's widow, Barbara, and their 8-year-old son, Tracey, live at the base.

South Viet Soldiers Win Biggest Battle In Delta

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese soldiers fighting in the heat and mud of the Mekong Delta badly mauled a Viet Cong force of about 1,500 men and won the greatest one-day battle of the delta war, military headquarters said today.

The battle against three Viet Cong battalions began Friday morning and cost the enemy 365 dead before the day was out. During the night, the Viet Cong slipped from the battlefield in small units but after sunrise today turned again to fight closely pursuing South Vietnamese rangers.

Only sketchy details, and no casualty figures, were available on today's fighting.

Reds Encircled

Initial battle reports said 60 government soldiers were killed and 102 wounded Friday before the enemy was encircled by armored columns and pinned down after being flushed from the sanctuary of the U-Minh forest 100 miles south of Saigon.

Three American advisers with the Vietnamese troops were reported wounded. Normally about three Americans accompany a South Vietnamese battalion on field operations.

The U.S. Military Assistance Command Vietnam (MACV) was exultant over the showing of the frequently criticized South Vietnamese army. Today's MACV communiqué said, "the ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) had a smashing victory in the delta yesterday. It was the biggest single day in delta history."

Yank Pilots Aid

The communiqué said no American ground units were involved, although American pilots flew more than half the day's 50 air strikes that accounted for about one-quarter of the Viet Cong casualties.

The South Vietnamese troops came from the 21st Division, one of the army's best rated units, and a reserve striking force of rangers. At the peak of the fight there were about five South Vietnamese battalions in the battle—about 2,500 men.

They were pitted against veteran Viet Cong units that evidently had been flushed out recently by young recruits. South Vietnamese headquarters reported that many of the Viet Cong bodies found on the battlefield appeared to be those of 13- to 15-year-old boys.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper, touring the battlefield today, reported the enemy had the latest type of Red Chinese weapons. U.S. advisers with the South Vietnamese troops reported some captured AD7 submachineguns were dated as recently as 1966.

Gen. Simons Retires Jan. 1

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Maj. Gen. Cecil L. Simons retires Jan. 1 as commander of the Michigan National Guard as required by a new tenure law, ending a 34-year career with the guard.

The tenure of office regulation limits the commanding general's term to four years and becomes effective the first of the year. Simons has served a little less than five years as commander.

Simons, a full time traffic engineer for the city of Grand Rapids, enlisted in the guard in 1933 and became an officer in 1940. He served in World War II and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Simons, 55, was a member of the Grand Rapids Police Department before and after the war and joined the city's traffic engineer office in 1949 where he was named traffic engineer nine years later.

'Queen Mary' Ends Sea Life

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Queen Mary, a monarch of ocean-going luxury liners, ends her 36-year career on the high seas today and settles into the sedate life of a floating maritime museum and convention center.

One million spectators were expected to crowd the southern California shoreline to witness the end of the final voyage of the 81,237-ton liner.

Officials plotted a final course as near the coast as possible to allow the greatest number to view the entrance into Long Beach Harbor, the vessel's new permanent home.

The City of Long Beach bought the liner for $3.4 million. The city plans to turn her into a restaurant, hotel, convention center and maritime museum.

Chafee, a supporter of Gov. George Romney of Michigan, said he thinks the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries might "break" a losing candidate but would not necessarily give the winner an inside track toward the nomination.

Chafee torpedoed a short-lived revolt against his taking over the conference chairmanship by assuring the governors in a closed session that he would never use his position as chairman to advance Romney or any other candidate.

Run-Rocky Pressures Grow

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "That's it. Now you've got it. That's what counts."

Rockefeller, who is expected to be designated a favorite son by the New York delegation, conceded he is being pressed harder at this meeting than ever before on his noncandidate stand.

McCall, who claims that at least 15 GOP governors would be happy to have Rockefeller head the 1968 party ticket, said subsequently he will not push his proposal.

Informed that a statement he made at a Friday news conference was being interpreted in some quarters as a softening of his stand against a possible draft, Rockefeller said this just wasn't so. "I have not changed my position one iota," he said.

In response to a question at the news conference of whether he was "draftable," the governor had replied: "That is a hypothetical question. It's an iffy question. I haven't faced it because I don't think it is a reality. If the party presents you with that fact, and I don't think it will, then you have to face it."

While McCall said he thinks Rockefeller "is moving a little" toward a possible candidacy, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland counseled others who want the New Yorker for a candidate against forming any draft organization. Agnew said it was too early.

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, incoming chairman of the GOP conference, said that if developments should bring Rockefeller into the picture he does not think that convention delegates would reject the New Yorker despite the fact that a majority of them are likely to be conservative.

Chafee, a supporter of Gov. George Romney of Michigan, said he thinks the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries might "break" a losing candidate but would not necessarily give the winner an inside track toward the nomination.

Chafee torpedoed a short-lived revolt against his taking over the conference chairmanship by assuring the governors in a closed session that he would never use his position as chairman to advance Romney or any other candidate.

Coho Spawning Answer Due Soon

By KENNETH S. LOWE
Of Panax Newspapers

Will coho salmon spawn successfully in Michigan streams? That is one of several key questions that remains to be answered regarding the state's spectacular introduction of this fish in Great Lakes waters.

The answer should be forthcoming soon, however.

Biologists working out of the Marquette regional office of the Michigan Conservation Department will begin probing coho redds (nests) in the Big Huron River and four other Upper Peninsula streams to determine whether the eggs are viable (capable of living).

Coho salmon a year-and-a-half old were planted in the Big Huron a year ago last May. They migrated into Lake Superior within a few days and provided great sport fishing there this spring and summer before returning to the Big Huron this fall to spawn.

Will They Hatch?

But, biologists wonder, will the eggs from this oceanic species hatch in streams tributary to fresh water lakes?

Because they weren't sure, biologists intercepted 2,691 cohos at a weir on the Big Huron during this fall's spawning run. About 100,000 eggs were taken from a sampling of these salmon for hatchery rearing. Other salmon were transferred to the Silver River in Baraga County (288 fish) Yellow Dog River in Marquette County (323) and Falls River in Baraga County (311) in hopes of establishing coho populations in

Henry Vondett, Marquette, regional fisheries biologist for the conservation department, said checks will be made next summer to learn whether cohos can be hatched successfully in the Upper Peninsula streams.

Other Questions

This may be determined either by placing dry traps over the redds or by checking the streams with electric shocking devices.

If cohos prove capable of spawning successfully in Michigan streams, other questions will arise. Paramount among them will be the question of what effect coho populations will have on other sport fish, particularly brook, rainbow, brown and lake trout.

The answer to that question may not be known for some time, but biologists are confident that if cohos compete unfavorably with native trout, control measure can be taken to limit their population.

Several species of sharks, such as the tiger shark and the soupfin shark, are used for food in certain localities.

Gill Netters And State Work Out Rule Agreement

LANSING (AP)—Commercial fishermen and the State Conservation Commission reached a compromise agreement here on a new set of rules for commercial gill net fishing in Lakes Michigan and Superior.

The modified plan will allow some commercial fishing while still retaining Conservation Department control over the catch. It is primarily aimed at protecting salmon and lake trout.

Previously, the commission has drawn up proposed regulations that would eliminate all gill net fishing in the lakes except for research purposes and with small mesh nets in waters 50 fathoms or deeper.

Commercial fishermen protested at a series of hearings

Honor Person On Retirement

RAPID RIVER—Harry Person of Rapid River was honored recently by his co-workers at Rapid River Forest Service with a retirement party. Person was presented a watch for his 30 years with the Forest Service.

Person, construction and maintenance supervisor for the Hiawatha National Forest working from the Rapid River Ranger Station, started the sign shop at Rapid River in 1942. The shop makes and repairs over 300 rustic signs each year to assist travelers in the Hiawatha Forest.

Celebrating the occasion with Person were: Lawrence Anderson, Bernard Popour, Bill Siitar, Roger Brannstrom, Art Johnson, Loyal Sigrids, Lowell Carlson, Vern Popour, and Carroll Tatrow. Harry Person is married to the former Helen Johnson of Rapid River. The Persons have two sons, Donald and Kenneth of Rapid River and a daughter, Janet, Mrs. Robert Simonsen of Escanaba and four grandchildren.

Linda Carlson Bride Of Kenneth Mahoney

All Saints Church in Gladstone was the setting Saturday, Nov. 11 for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Linda Maria Carlson of Gladstone and Kenneth James Mahoney of Escanaba.

Baskets of white mums and pink gladiolus adorned the altar as the Rev. Lawrence Gauthier heard the exchange of vows at 12 noon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carlson of 317 N. 17th St., Gladstone and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mahoney of 1100 S. 19th St., Escanaba.

Peau de Soie
The bride's Empire gown of peau de soie was detailed with lace appliques and featured a full length detachable train. An orange-blossom crown secured her fingertip veil of nylon.

Covenant Church Sunday School Program Sunday

The Evangelical Covenant Sunday School Christmas Program will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30. It will include songs and recitations by Sunday School children.

A special portion of the program will be presented by members of the Junior League group. Colored slides depicting the Christmas story will be shown.

Perfect attendance awards will be presented to Mrs. Ann Piche, Mike and Tom Olson, Miss Ruth Sawyer and Pastor James R. Swan. A coffee hour will follow the program and members and friends are welcome to attend.

A corsage will be presented to Mrs. Herman Carlson in recognition of her 38 years of perfect attendance as a Sunday School teacher. Mrs. Carlson has retired from Sunday School work due to the illness of her husband.

tulle and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with red roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Pauline Germaine of Rte. 1 Escanaba and bridesmaids were Miss Marciel Schafer of Gladstone and Miss Dawn Rae of Escanaba.

The attendants wore floor length gowns of brocade and crepe with short matching veils held by brocade ribbon bows. The maid of honor wore a rose and pink gown and the maids, shades of dark and light blue. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations to match their dresses.

Flower Girl
Little Brenda Carlson, sister of the bride, was the flower girl and Ricky LaForest carried the rings.

Serving as bestman for his cousin was Gary Benson of Escanaba and groomsmen were Jeff Carlson and John Gorenchan.

For attending her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carlson wore a beige suit dress with blue accessories and Mrs. Mahoney chose a navy suit with matching accessories. They were presented corsages to match their attire.

The wedding reception was held from 4 to 9 p. m. at the Midway in Gladstone and a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

For her wedding trip to Chicago, the bride wore a red coat and dress ensemble and was presented a corsage of white mums.

Home in Escanaba
The newlows are now at home at 117 S. 23rd St., Escanaba. The bride is a 1966 graduate of Holy Name High School and is employed by the firm of Schneider-Larche and Haeppel. Mr. Mahoney is also a '66 graduate of Holy Name High School and is employed in the meat department of Mel and Elmer's Super Valu.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. LaBombard, Gladstone, Mrs. Anna Carlson, Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Benson, Escanaba, grandparents of the bride and Mrs. Lillian Mahoney, Chicago, grandmother of the bridegroom.

Wells PTA Meets Tuesday

The Wells Central PTA will meet Tuesday, Dec. 12 at 8 p. m. Room visitation will be at 7 p. m. and school board member, Richard Hansen, will speak at 7:30 p. m. Room visitation will also be held at 8:30 p. m. Lunch will be served by the fifth grade mothers.

Open House will be held at the Wells Central School from 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 10 for viewing the new multipurpose room. Coffee and cake will be served.

Trinity Ladies Meet Tuesday

The December meeting of the Stonington Trinity Ladies Aid will be held Tuesday, Dec. 12, 8 p. m. at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Stonington. Members are asked to bring cookies and containers which will be packaged and delivered to shut-ins at Christmas time.

Golden Age Club Christmas Party

The Golden Age Club Christmas party will be held at Club 314 on Sunday, Dec. 10. Members may come to play cards at 2 p. m. and supper will be served at 5:30 p. m. followed by cards and dancing.

Members are to bring their own table service.

Guinea Mission Program Tonight

At 7:30 this evening, the Rev. Dean Rowney will present a program on Anglican missionary work in New Guinea in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. Mr. Rowney is an Australian who served as a missionary in New Guinea and is now working as part-time chaplain at the University of Minnesota Episcopal Center.

The Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan has underwritten the building of a chapel at the Newton Theological Seminary at Dugara, New Guinea as an M. R. I. project. M. R. I. is Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence, a world-wide effort in the Anglican communion. The Rev. Reno W. Kuehn, rector of Grace Episcopal church, Ishpeming, who will appear here with the Rev. Mrs. Rowney, is diocesan M.R.I. chairman.

Charity Ball Tickets Offered By Committee

Tickets are now on sale for the annual charity ball, sponsored by the Philanthropic Committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club. This colorful holiday event will be held at the Dells Supper Club on Wednesday Dec. 27, from 9 p. m. until 1:30. A buffet will be served and there will be guest awards.

Chairman of the charity ball is Mrs. Forrest Henslee, with Mrs. Arno Whipple as co-chairman. The committee members are Mrs. Charles Byrns, Mrs. Anthony Baudek, Mrs. George Eastin, Mrs. Merrill Kason, and Mrs. Marvin Roberts.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the above members, or at Gust Asp's, Gartner's and the West End Drug Store. The public is cordially invited to attend the charity ball, and is urged to purchase tickets early this year, in order to avoid the disappointment of past years.

Four Leagues In Peninsula

STAMBAUGH — An organizational meeting of the League of Women Voters of Iron County was held Thursday at the Recreation Center. This meeting was the culmination of many hours of work.

There are now four Leagues in the Upper Peninsula. Houghton-Hancock and Escanaba, and two provisional Leagues, Sault Ste. Marie-Les Cheneaux Area and the new one in Iron County.

Fellowship At Rapid River Has Yule Party

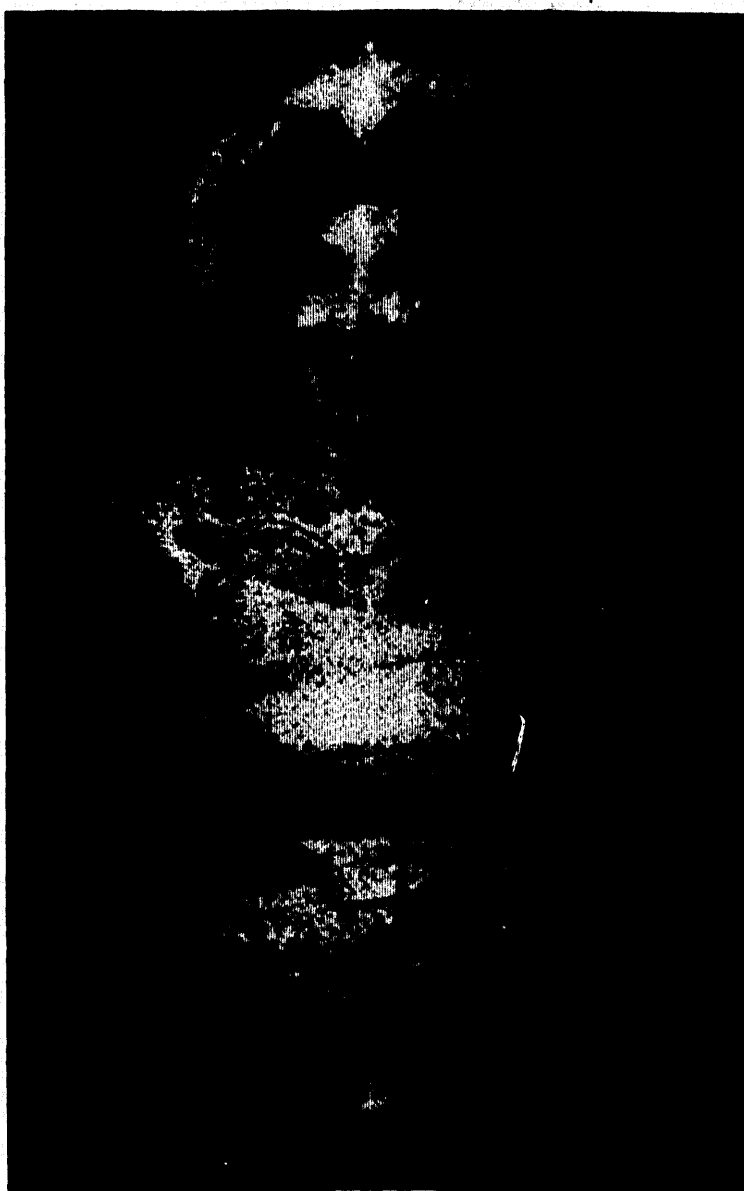

RAPID RIVER—Women Fellowship of Rapid River Congregational Church held its annual yuletide party Wednesday evening. The partygoers enjoyed party games and a Christmas program climaxed by a gift exchange and buffet lunch.

The program was presented by four Rapid River High School students; Lolly Greenlund and Tina Oberg told the Christmas story and Cindy Viau sang Christmas songs accompanied by Linda Jo Dencau.

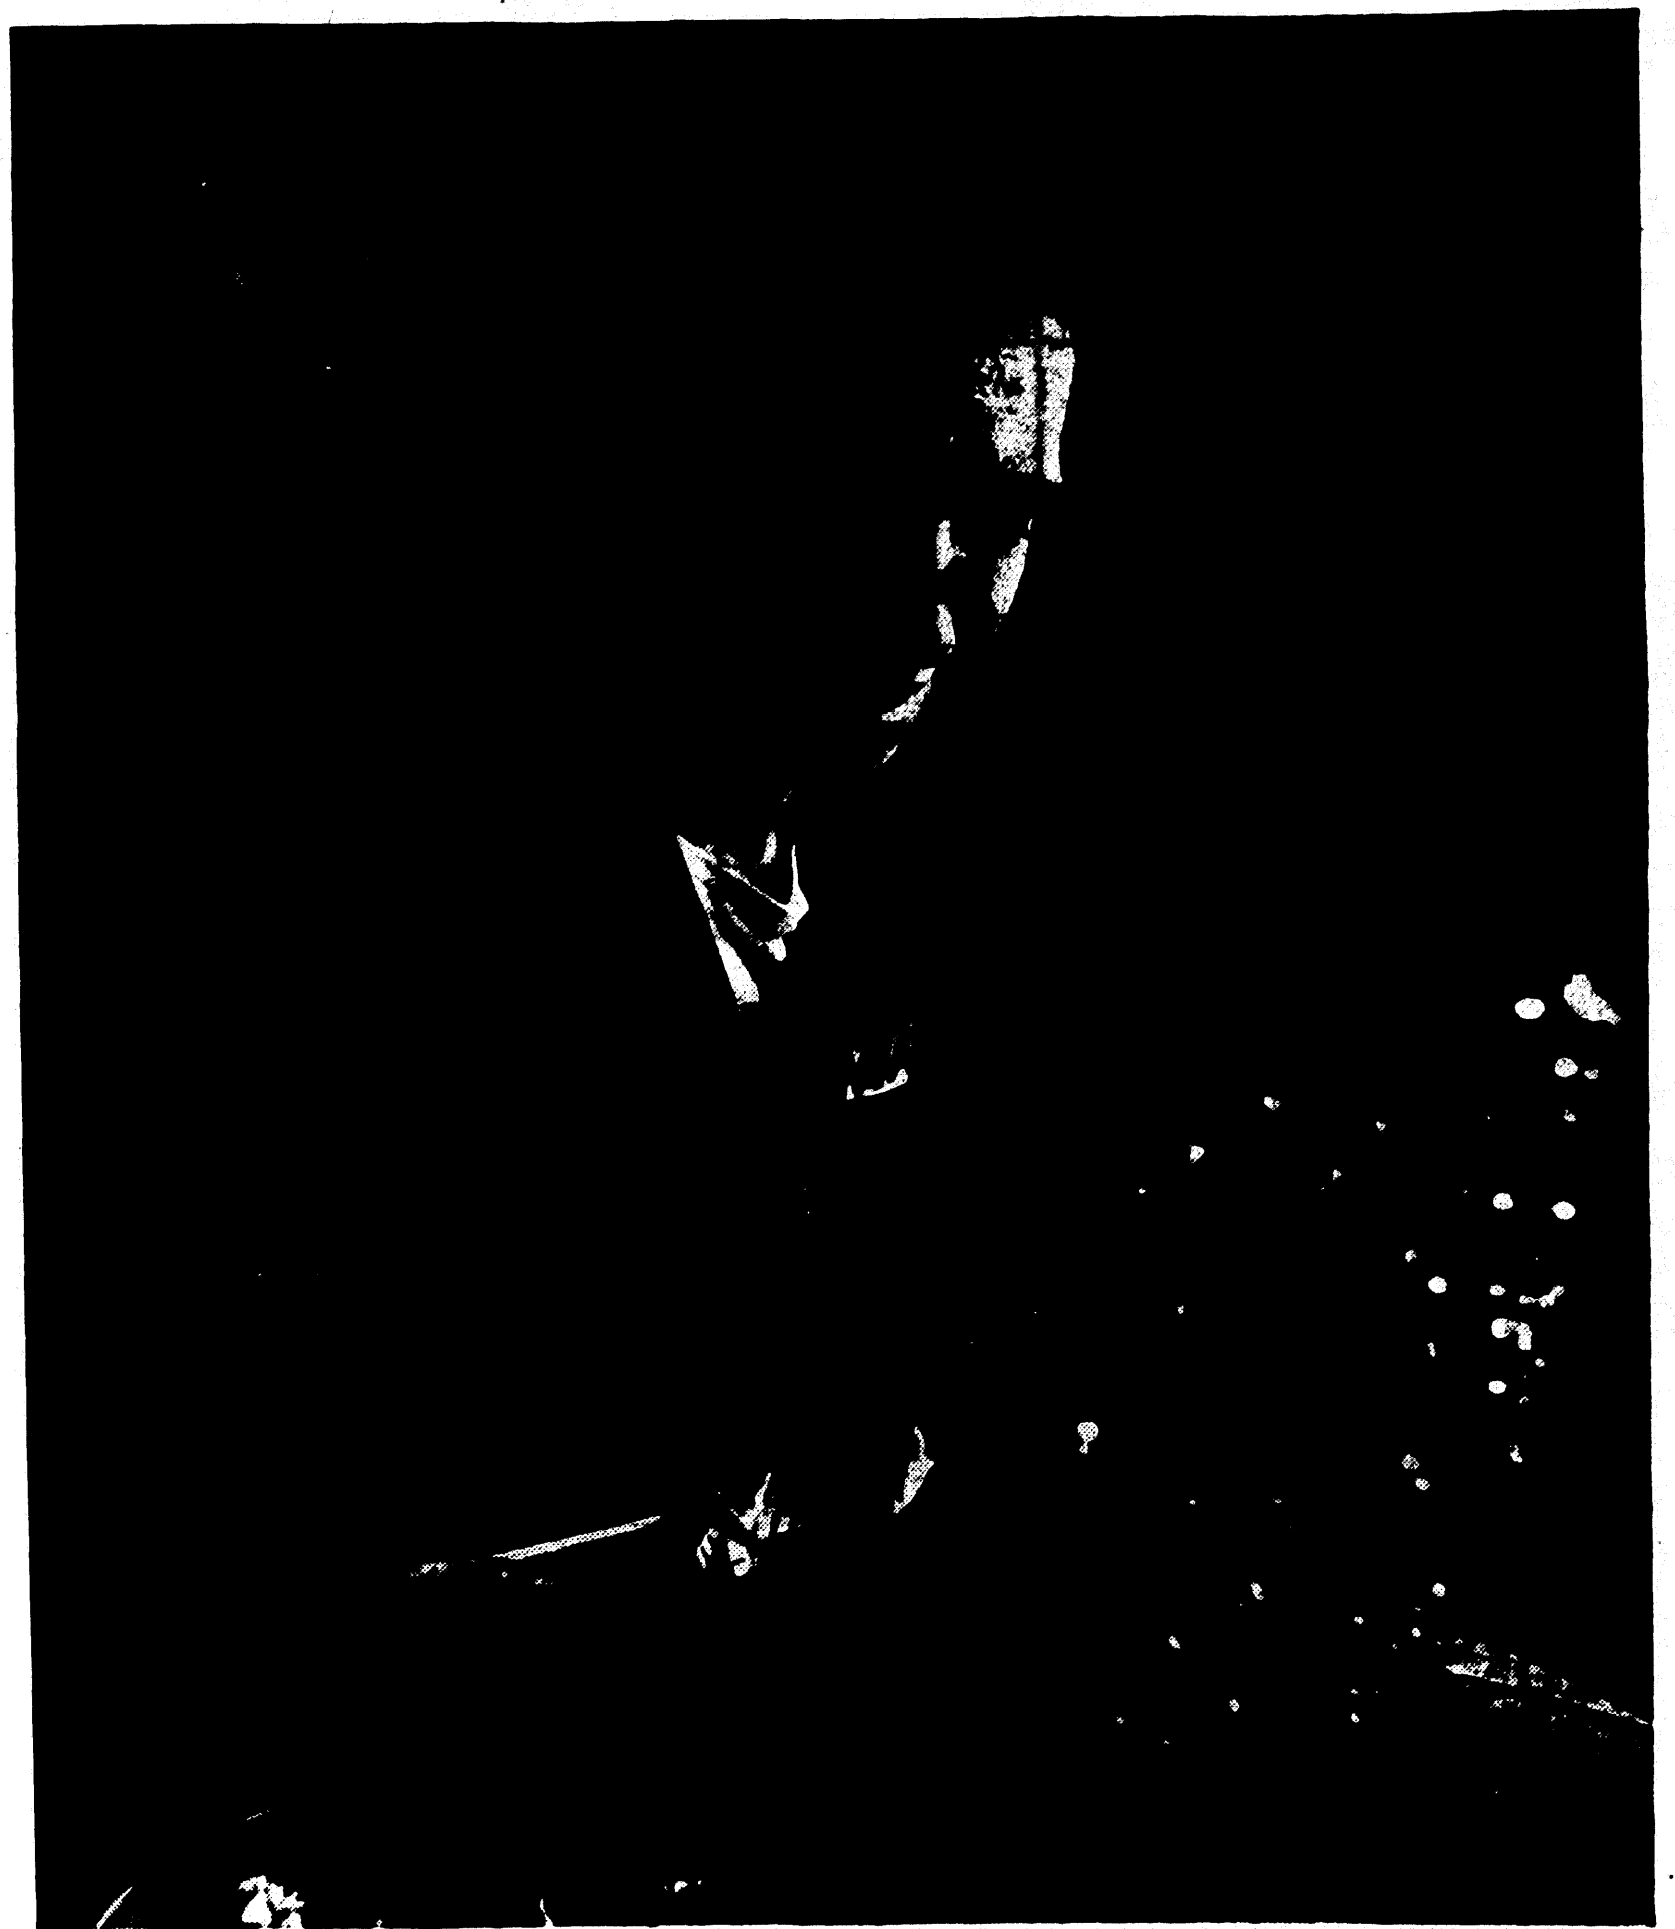

The buffet table was colorful with an attractive holly centerpiece accented by Christmas candles, and the decorative lunch. Mrs. Esther Caswell decorated the dining tables using individual holiday decorations and napkins.

A short business meeting preceded the party. Plans for the Firemen's Christmas party will be made by Mrs. Grace Burnett, Mrs. Esther Caswell and Mrs. Charles Bowen. Christmas boxes will be packaged and delivered by the Fellowship for shut-ins.

Persons wishing to contribute to the boxes are asked to bring their contributions to the church Sunday, Dec. 17. The boxes will contain fruit, Christmas cookies, candy, jams and jellies, and dietetic food. The boxes will be packed Tuesday, Dec. 19, 10 a. m. at the church parish hall. Women of the church wishing to help with this project are asked to come to the Tuesday meeting.

Mrs. Kenneth J. Mahoney (Delta Studio)

Christmas in Vietnam.

Only 2 more shipping days. By air.

Your gift for that very special serviceman can make Christmas Day a lot brighter, even in Vietnam. But it has to travel almost halfway around the world.

To be sure it reaches him in good condition and in good time for Christmas... just follow these important steps.

1. The deadline for mailing by surface transportation, November 11th, is already past. To be sure your package arrives on time, send it air mail—and mail it by December 11th at the latest.

(The Post Office Department and the Department of Defense have been assured that all air mail packages received by then will be delivered to Vietnam by Christmas.)

2. Make sure the name and address is complete and clearly legible, placed lengthwise on the lower right hand side of your package, leaving room for the necessary postmark, notations, etc. Be sure to include the important 5-digit A.P.O. or F.P.O. number in the address to avoid serious delays.

3. It may be necessary to mark the package, "Gift—export license not required." Ask your post office.

4. Make sure the postage is fully prepaid. Your post office can help you determine the amount.

5. If you are using Christmas seals or other labels in aid of charitable projects, put them on the back, not on the address side of your package. The Post Office issues a special Christmas stamp which is legal postage and should therefore be above the address.

6. Mail the package at the proper window in your post office, not at a letter box.

7. The post office can also tell you what weight limit applies. (It varies by A.P.O. and F.P.O. number.)

8. Be very sure the package itself is secure and substantial. Take into account the contents, the climatic conditions, and the handling within Vietnam. Paper alone or ordinary pasteboard boxes are inadequate. Canvas or similar materials, double-faced corrugated cardboard boxes, solid fiber boxes or wooden containers are recommended. Contents should not shake or rattle.

If you have any further questions, your post office can answer them for you. But by following these key suggestions, your serviceman should have your gift package intact and in time for Christmas. And that's the best way to tell him your heart is with him.

Area To Dedicate Schools Sunday

RECOGNIZING THE GROWTH OF ESCANABA to the south, the new Jefferson School located on 18th Ave. S., near the Athletic Field serves students south of 12th Ave.

S., and in the Sylvan Point area. The eight-room building was occupied for the first time in September. The City of Escanaba and the Board of Education cooperated in construction of a playground at the school. The school is one of six projects financed by a $1,450,000 bond issue. Architect was Norman Arntzen of G. Arntzen & Co., Escanaba. (Daily Press Photo)

AFTER A PERIOD of four years since the demolition of the old Franklin School in 1963, students in the eastern part of Escanaba had neighborhood school this fall. Instead of boarding buses for other schools, the children now enter classes through these doors.

THIS SIX-ROOM ADDITION to the John Lemmer School makes the building the largest elementary school in the district with about 550 students attending classes daily. Most of the students from the old Jefferson School district now attend classes at Lemmer School.

Elementary Children Joy In New Class Facilities

If the comments of the children who are attending classes in Escanaba Area's new elementary school facilities are any indication, the $1,450,000 spent by the district to build three new schools and additions to three others couldn't have gone for a wiser purpose. Almost universally, the children are happy. Here are some of their remarks:

Jim Marrier, Washington sixth grade: "At this time I can't think of any disadvantages in our modern school."

Mike LaCrosse, Washington sixth grade: "Our new school is much better than our old one. There are very few stairs to walk up and down. It's a lot more pleasant and colorful."

Leslie Brees, Washington sixth grade: "I can still remember how my heart was going when I was going to school Wednesday morning. Thump, Thump, Thump. Then when I was in the new school, POW, there went my heart. I got over excited. The school was more beautiful than I ever imagined it to be."

Raymond Hockstad, Jefferson first grade: "I like the new Jefferson school because we have a nice gym."

Sandra Oppen, Jefferson fifth grade: "In my whole life, this is the eighth school I've attended. It is the best school, too. My two brothers say if they had a choice of any school in the world they'd take Jefferson."

Tom LaMire, Franklin sixth grade: "Ben Franklin was a master mind of his time, but if he saw what I see five days out of the week he would most likely faint . . . I never cared any too much about school before I came to the new Franklin."

Sue Hurley, Franklin sixth grade: "I think this school is very nice. It has nice-sized rooms, good blackboards and very nice bathrooms. They have a little sink for little kids and a big sink for big kids . . ."

Terry Miller, Franklin sixth grade: "Our class is very grateful we have a gym. An organized game of kickball is very much fun in such a large gym."

Billy Beck, Franklin sixth grade: " . . . It has all the modern conveniences. The restrooms are neat and clean. Every room has its own fountain and faucets. We have many maps. The blackboards aren't black, they're blue so you can see much better . . ."

Bob Vardigan, Jefferson fifth grade: "I like our school because it's new. It's shaped real cool. There are so many places you can go. I live pretty close to the school so I can walk as slow as I want and not be late . . ."

Mary LaBay, Lemmer sixth grade: "Our new wing at Lemmer School is very modern. There are six new grades . . . Our room has three bulletin boards. We change them every three weeks. Each room has an outside board that we decorate which makes the walls in the hall cheerful and gay . . . I hope when I get married that my children will have as nice a school as I have."

Many of the children expressed appreciation to taxpayers of the district for voting the bond issue to finance the buildings. Escanaba should be proud, too.

League Plans Club 314 Tour Monday Night

The combined units of the Escanaba League of Women Voters will tour Club 314 as a group on Monday, Dec. 11 at 8 p.m.

Following the tour the group will gather at the home of Mrs. Ralph Anderson, 528 S. 9th St. Mrs. Jack Winters, chairman of the Local Study Item and her committee will present a brief summary of their recreation study.

This will be followed by a Christmas party. Instead of a gift exchange, members are asked to bring articles of clothing or toys for children of these ages: boy, 14; girls 12, 9, 7, 4, 2. Contributions of money will be used for special purposes, such as milk for a needy child and surgical dressings.

Calvary LCW Makes Visits To The Elderly

Rapid River Calvary LCW has a yearly project of visiting the Delta County rest homes. Each unit is assigned a home and may visit the home any time during the year. The homes are called for a convenient time and then the ladies of each unit plan a program, bake cookies and prepare for the visitation.

The Esther Unit with Mrs. Harry Johnson as chairman visited the Pine Haven Home in February and wrote letters for the residents. The Ensign Unit, Mrs. George Weber, chairman, made a call at the Sloan Nursing Home in October, and the Ogontz Unit with chairman Miss Lily Hansen visited the Delta Nursing Home in September.

The Rapid River and Alton Units will make their visitations after the holidays at their assigned homes. Oja Rest Home and Gladstone Nursing Home. Mrs. Leonard Thorsen is Rapid River Unit chairman and Mrs. Harold Forslund and Mrs. Hjalmar Nelson are co-chairmen for the Alton Unit.

Open House Set After Ceremony

The Escanaba Area Public Schools, which last year celebrated "100 Years of Educational Progress" in its Centennial observance, will put the first new buildings of its "second century" on public display Sunday.

Open houses of all of the new facilities are scheduled from 3 to 5 p. m. following the formal dedication program at 2 p. m. at the new Washington School.

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett said anyone is welcome to tour the buildings, particularly residents who don't have children in elementary grades and might not otherwise get an opportunity to see the schools.

The tours, sponsored by PTA organizations of the schools, will be guided by fifth and sixth grade students.

The formal dedication program also will feature tours of both the new and old Washington Schools to illustrate the need for the new buildings and also to display the educational advancements in the 69 years since the old building was opened.

The new Washington School, complete with library, multi-purpose room and the latest in educational materials and facilities including blue chalk boards, was the last of the new facilities to be occupied.

The old building was first used in 1898 and after 69 years of weather and children the wear is evident.

Besides the Washington School, also to be dedicated Sunday are the new Franklin and Jefferson elementary schools and the six-room addition to the John Lemmer school in Escanaba, the multi-purpose room addition at Wells, and two classrooms and a multi-purpose room at Soo Hill.

All of the buildings and additions were financed by a $1,450,000 bond issue approved by voters of the district Feb. 1, 1966.

The bond issue also financed construction of a new heating plant to heat both the Junior High and the new Washington School.

Passage of the bond issue climaxed efforts by Escanaba Area school boards to provide new elementary schools since the old Franklin School was condemned and torn down in 1963.

Until this fall when the new building was opened, students from the Franklin area were bussed to other buildings in the

Completion of the new classrooms at Soo Hill allowed kindergarten children to be elevated from a basement room to a modern, well-lighted and cheerful facility.

The multi-purpose rooms in all of the schools, besides being used for recreation and physical fitness activities for students, also provide facilities for larger school gatherings and general community meeting hall needs.

Final work on the actual buildings has been completed. Landscaping will be completed this spring.

The Board of Education is expected to take bids on demolition of the old Washington School in the near future to provide additional playground space.

Rapid River

4-H Meeting

Rapid River 4-H Club will conduct a short business meeting Monday, Dec. 11, 7 p. m. meeting at the Bay de Noc Elementary School. Christmas gift names will be drawn and plans made for the club's Dec. 18 Christmas Party.

League Decorates Trees

Rapid River Calvary Luther League will meet tonight Saturday, Dec. 8, 7 p. m. at the parish hall to decorate the church's Christmas trees. Trees will be placed in the sanctuary and parish hall.

New Members

Calvary Luther League of Rapid River has five new members. Eighth graders joining the membership are: Terry Johnson, Karen Vanderhoff, Robert Kaukola, Robert Holmgren and Kathy Johnson. The League has a present membership of 25.

Ensigners Meet Monday

Ensigners 4-H Club will meet Monday, Dec. 11 at 7 p. m. at the Ensign Township Hall. The meeting will be short so persons may attend the Holiday Bazaar at the Rapid River School. Committees will be assigned for the club's Christmas parties and 1968 year and club calendars will be distributed.

Successful Hunters

Successful hunters during the recent deer season were Richard Gooleski, Billy Czerwinski, Walter Djuida, of Hamtramack and Stanley Dominick of Ensign. The men were guests at the Dominick home.

CAA Meet

POWERS — The Area Policy Advisory Committee of the Community Action Agency Center will meet at the Spalding Township Hall at 7:15 p.m., Monday, Dec. 11.

A MULTI-PURPOSE ROOM at the Wells School, a need for many years, was added to the building in the elementary school building program. The addition was attached to an existing wing of the building and provides recreation space for Wells children.

ADDITION OF two classrooms gave kindergarten children at Soo Hill a new room of their own, taking them out of a basement room which had been used. A multi-purpose room also was added to the building.

THE FACADE OF THE NEW Washington School facing N. 18th St., near the corner of 2nd Ave. N., offers a striking example of the simple but modern architecture used in the design of the buildings. Similar designs were used in the other two new buildings constructed in Escanaba, the Franklin and Jefferson schools.

KINDERGARTEN CHILDREN of Mrs. Jack Magnuson's class in the new Washington School enjoy bright new surroundings in a musical game. The classroom in the last of of six elementary school projects for the Escanaba Area school district was first used when students returned from Thanksgiving vacation.

Board To Open Demolition Bids

The Escanaba Area Board of Education, which will dedicate the new Washington School in ceremonies at 2 p. m. Sunday, will take bids for demolition of the old building at its regular meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the school administration building.

The old school, constructed in 1898, will be torn down to clear additional playground space at the site.

Demolition will be completed by March 1. The Board also will open bids on the sale of two school district automobile, consider two appointments to the election Board of Canvassers and is expected to extend contracts to two new teachers for the second semester.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett also has scheduled six items for discussion on the relatively light agenda.

The Board will hear reports on recent parent-teacher conferences in elementary schools, the National School Board Association meeting March 30-April 2 in Detroit, and on a list of appointments to be made by the Board of Education president.

A discussion of a meeting with the Bay de Noc Community College Board of Trustees, a report on the sale of Washington School fire escapes, and a discussion on the Youth for Understanding program also are scheduled.

School Openings Next Fall Topic Of PTA Meeting

Efforts to make sure all Michigan schools open on time next September are underway by the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The Michigan PTA has called a conference of 10 state organizations and agencies Monday in Lansing to consider the matter.

Representatives of the Michigan legislature have been invited by A. B. Haist, Saginaw, president of the 310,000 member state PTA.

Haist said the meeting was called "to determine what action is necessary now to assure that schools in Michigan will open on time in all communities in September."

"Our officers," he said "believe the PTA is the one logical group to call such a conference." Our only concern is the welfare of children and youth.

The Michigan PTA has challenged all groups involved "to work to avoid more strikes, extended vacations or sanctions which last fall deprived many children and youth of their normal school year," stresses Haist. He is the retired superintendent of Negaunee and a long time PTA leader.

Recruit Workers In Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace Corps Director Jack Vaughn will visit four small colleges in Southern Michigan and Northern Indiana next week as part of the agency's program to recruit personnel.

He will speak at convocations and visit with faculty and student at Hillsdale, Olivet and Hope Colleges in Michigan and Goshen college in Indiana.

Vaughn, a University of Michigan graduate, expects to fly to Detroit Tuesday and drive to Hillsdale, Mich., for a 1 p. m. convocation.

He will speak at Olivet College Wednesday, at Goshen College Thursday, and Hope College in Holland, Mich. Friday.

Home From Vietnam

Staff Sgt. Harvey Setter has returned from a year's active duty in Vietnam. His wife, the former Betty Holmlund of Ensign, and children, Heddi and Robin, have lived in Rapid River during his Vietnam service. The Setters left Friday, Dec. 8 for Florida where Staff Sgt. Setter will be assigned to the Holmstead Air Force Base. Enroute to Florida, the Setters will visit with relatives in Detroit.

Community Tree

Rapid River's Community Christmas tree has been placed again this year on the corner of Main Street and U. S. 2 by the Rapid River Gift Shop. The tree will be decorated by the Rapid River Volunteer Firemen.

Harlem Stars

The "Harlem Stars" will be featured at Rapid River High School gymnasium Tuesday, Dec. 12. A local team will play the "Stars" with game time set for 8:15 p. m. Meeting the "Stars" from Rapid River will be a team composed of former basketball players; Dale Gibson, Wayne Christoff, Greg Viau, Mill Mischeau, Sam Boyer, Doug Moss, Richard Dye, Terrance Johnson, Punch Johnson, and Brad Cory. Game profits will purchase grass seed for the schools' lawns.

Flat Books

Delta County Flat Books may be purchased at Majestic's IGA Store in Ensign. The books sell for $3.50 each with profits benefiting the 4-H program in Delta County.

VA Combats Emphysema

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration says it is constantly stepping up its facilities for combating the often fatal lung disease emphysema.

Special units for diagnosis and treatment of the disease are now at 32 VA hospitals, the chief medical director, Dr. H. Martin Engle, said Thursday.

Paralleling the increase in special facilities is an educational program to discourage patients in VA hospitals from smoking because it has been "clearly established" as a cause of emphysema, the VA said.

Monsanto Praised For Reducing Its Phosphate Waste

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Water Resources Commission has praised a Detroit-area chemical company for what it calls a major development in the removal of phosphates from industrial waste.

The commission praised the Monsanto Co. of Trenton for "outstanding effort in the research and design of facilities for controlling the phosphate content of its waste discharge to the Detroit River."

The firm is one of 17 Detroit River-Lake Erie area industries, involving 25 plants, which executed binding agreements with the commission in 1966 requiring cutbacks in waste loads to the river by specified dates.

Under its agreement, Monsanto must reduce the amount of phosphates from approximately 10,000 pounds to 2,000 pounds per day by November 1969.

The commission said the firm reported that it not only will reduce the phosphates discharge substantially below the stipulated amount but will put enabling facilities into operation by next June, some 17 months ahead of schedule.

Loring F. Oeming, commission executive secretary, said phosphates are a prime cause of accelerated aging of lakes, including Lake Erie.

GM Owners To Meet In Detroit

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1968 meeting of General Motors Corp. stockholders will be May 24 in Detroit's Cobo Hall, the firm's board of directors said.

It will be the 60th GM stockholders meeting, with 1,300 shareholders and guests expected to attend, as they did this year's meeting.

About 9 per cent of GM's 1,375,000 holders of 285 million shares of outstanding common stock live in Michigan, GM said.

Two Sentenced For Gas Larceny

John A. Beaver, 20, and Joseph Beaver, 18, both of Rte. 3, Rapid River, were each sentenced to 20 days in the county jail after pleading guilty before Justice Edward Goldsworthy to a charge of larceny of gasoline.

The state Police of the Gladstone Post said the gasoline was stolen from a truck owned by Leonard Hill of Cooles, Mich., on Federal Highway 12, Nahma Township, on Nov. 30. John Beaver was arrested in the county jail, where he is lodged pending hearing in Circuit Court on a breaking and entering charge.

City Commission To Meet Monday

The City Commission will consider approving payment of $29,519 to the L. W. Brumm Construction Co. of Marquette for work on the Industrial Park improvements when it meets in regular session Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the City Hall.

Four other items were listed on the agenda prepared by City Manager H. J. Henrikson.

They are a request for transfer of a liquor license from George Olive, Lincoln House, to Gerald and Lois Mae Godfrey; Christmas bonus for city employees; advertise for bids for gasoline and fuel oil, and another date for the next regular Commission meeting, which is scheduled Christmas Day.

Annual Party For Sisters Sunday

The annual All Saints Sister's party will be held in the school multi-purpose room Sunday at 8 p.m. All members of the parish as well as friends are welcome to attend.

The program will include selections by the Cloverettes. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joseph Bergeson, president of All Saints Guild, and the officers. Mrs. Ted Goetz, Mrs. Francis Roy and Mrs. Matt Gasperich.

DIANN'S 'DOG' wouldn't win any prizes at the local dog show, but she'd sure raise a ruckus among the canine entries. Orphaned last spring, the raccoon was raised by Diann Rusch, 16, of Okauchee, Wis., with the permission of the state Conservation Dept., and is now easily handled and will walk on a leash.

Nationalist China Gets U.S. Tanks

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China today took delivery of the first shipment of a "large number" of tanks from the United States.

The number and type of the tanks were not disclosed but they probably were M41 Walker Bulldogs, of which hundreds are needed to replace older models.

Cheryl Jackson Is "Sankta Lucia"

The annual Christmas program sponsored by Lutheran Church Women of Zion Lutheran Church was presented Tuesday at 8 p.m., and included a program of Christmas songs and customs of countries by Mrs. Eugene Johnson.

Mrs. Ingmar Levin welcomed guests and introduced Mrs. Johnson, who also sang, accompanying herself with a harp.

Cheryl Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson of Gulliver was chosen to play the role of Sankta Lucia. She appeared wearing a long white robe with red sash and crown of lighted candles. As she walked down the aisle, Mrs. John Paul Quick and her daughter, Pamela, and Eileen Mathson sang the song, "Sankta Lucia." Mrs. Edward Mathson accompanied them, and the legend of

Michigan Boy Faces Murder Trial In Canada

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Magistrate G. G. Marshallman committed David Fuller, 15, of New Haven, Mich., Friday for trial on a charge of murder in the slaying of a London man July 30.

The victim was George Albert Shaver, 74, found dead with two .38-caliber bullet wounds in his chest.

Defense Counsel W. R. Poole asked for a one-week adjournment in the previously adjourned case to consider the youth's psychiatric condition. The magistrate said there was sufficient evidence to indicate Fuller was able to stand trial and there was no point in a further delay. The youth had undergone an eight-day examination at a hospital for the criminally insane.

The case is to be heard in the winter term of the Ontario Supreme Court, which opens Jan. 9.

Legislature To Honor Hatcher

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature planned to honor retiring University of Michigan President Harlan H. Hatcher tonight with a resolution noting his accomplishments in higher education.

Presentation of the resolution, adopted earlier this year by the Legislature, was to be made by Rep. Raymond J. Smith, R - Ann Arbor, at a dinner at the new U-M special events building.

The resolution praises Hatcher's service as president of the university since 1951 and for 29 previous years at Ohio State University and notes the expansion of the U-M under his guidance.

Vietnamese Vet Plans Christmas At Seul Choix

Christmas is different from year to year. The one for EM 1 Gustav Plister of Seul Choix Point Lighthouse will be his first since completing a one-year tour of duty in Vietnam.

With him for the holiday will be his wife, Gail and their two sons. And around them of course will be the other families at the Coast Guard station.

Plister has been in military service 17 years. Interestingly, the service included duty in 1954, when New China fell, transferring people from north to south Vietnam. He was in the Haiphong area.

At the time he was serving in the Navy on a 4-year enlistment. He had previously served four years in the Air Force and seven years in the Coast Guard. 2½ - year period in the Army followed the Naval service. His last duty in the Vietnam area was with the Coast Guard, and involved service aboard a patrol boat which worked along the coastline, inspecting for munitions and other supplies being brought from outside or within Vietnam. Fishing junks were inspected for supplies, and to check the people aboard. Plister also aided fire support work of U.S. special forces and Vietnamese military groups.

He served aboard the Point Banks patrol boat eight months and on the USS Kirschnie four months. The latter was a mothership for patrol boats and Navy swift boats, replenishing supplies and making repairs.

While in Saigon he met his brother, 1st Lt. Robert Plister, who is now in Germany, for a visit and again before leaving to return to the United States Feb. 6. Plister's twin brother, Carl is a technical sergeant serving in England. He has one other brother, Joseph, a Navy seaman serving in the Mediterranean. A sister lives in their home town of Sheboygan, Wis., along with their mother, Mrs. Frances Plister.

Plister is one of two area Coast Guardsmen just back from Vietnam. He states the Escanaba Coast Guard station has on its staff, Bert Drouillard, who served in Vietnam aboard the Point Garnet.

Off duty in Vietnam, Plister said "It wasn't bad. Of course 11 men living aboard an 82-foot boat can be a problem. And water really got rough in the monsoons. I'm convinced that we are right in being there. The Communists respond to force. Most of Vietnam is Catholic and opposed to Communism."

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee in Augustana hall. Decorations were in the Christmas theme with each table centered with an attractive centerpiece and lighted tapers in red, green and white. Christmas decorations were placed in various parts of the hall. "Sankta Lucia" presided at the table. Approximately 90 women attended.

The 15th annual dinner meeting of the Inland Lime and Stone Company Twenty-five Year Club was held Thursday evening at the Fireside. Fourteen employees who completed 25 years employment with the firm were welcomed, and presented watches.

The new members are Roy C. Anderson, Oscar C. Blomquist, Donald G. Cartwright, John R. Haindl, Earl W. Kane, Sherwood J. Lamirand, Helmer W.

Matlin, William T. Rushford, George J. Schneider, V. Millard Scott, John F. Stroud, Lawrence T. Tennant, Marvin J. Vallier, and Marland L. Wolfe.

Total membership of the club now is 113, said John W. Moffat, vice president and general manager. Thirty four members are retired employees and 79 are active working employees.

Almost a fourth, 23 per cent of Inland's employees are members of the Twenty-Five Year Club. The average years of service per member is 31 years, six months.

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital: Rozanne Reid, Dixie Keinonen, Nancy Lavake, Velma Lakosky and Russel King.

Soil Bank Is In Decline

During 1967, Michigan had 2,743 farms with Conservation Reserve or Soil Bank contracts, according to information from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Thirteen states had more farms than Michigan in the program. The highest was Georgia with 10,870 farms.

Aggregate-wise, Michigan had 187,664 acres under contract, declining from a peak of 720,987 acres in 1960. Conservation Reserve rental payments this year will be $2,400,497. The highest year was $9.4 million in 1960. When completed, the Michigan payments will total $60,069,790, and the national total will be $2,480,473,211.

The Soil Bank was authorized by Congress in 1956 for a period extending through 1960. This has not been extended. Acreage was contracted for periods up to 13 years, and payments are being made until contracts expire.

Practice cost shares in Michigan ranged from $113 in 1962 to $8,569 in 1959. Michigan had 137,067 grass and legume seedling projects, 31,286 tree planting projects, 35 dams and ponds built, 4,894 acres put in cover for wildlife and 29.2 acres in water and marsh management for wildlife.

Senior Housing Stalled; Planning Drive For Funds

The Manistique City Council, in special meeting Thursday night, authorized contacts with legislators and other persons in an effort to obtain funds for a senior citizens housing project. The city has been advised no funds are available for the 36-bed facility.

Councilman Leo DeMars asked if the city should repeal codes it adopted, if the housing is not to be received. He indicated the codes raise local construction costs.

The manager said urban renewal also is involved in the program and the codes should not be repealed. Other councilmen indicated they thought the housing project would eventually be received.

Councilman Merwin White observed that federal funds were received for the hospital without code adoption requirements.

A bid of Robert Hastings for a used Jeep, for $40 and an offer for and old sno-go for $550 were accepted.

The second monthly meeting in December has been scheduled

Dec. 18. The Council will not meet Dec. 11.

Authorization was given the manager to accept the low bid for turkeys for employees at Christmas. Announcement was made of a Jan. 3 meeting on the charter revision, now completed. Public hearing is planned about Jan. 10.

World War I veterans have elected officers with Hans Lund heading the slate as commander.

Adolph Hilkman is senior vice commander, Dewey Minor, junior vice commander, George Carney, quartermaster, Oscar Johnson, Nels Halsey and William Vincent, trustees for 1, 3 and 5 years, respectively, Michael Kotchen, chaplain, Arthur Curran, sergeant-at-arms, Raymond McCarney, judge advocate, and Alex Cooper, adjutant.

George Carney, past commander, installed the officers.

Senior Citizens Planning Party

Senior Citizens will meet Tuesday, Dec. 12 in the K-C hall for a pot luck dinner at 6 p.m. Gifts will be exchanged. Members have been asked to bring table service.

20,400 Workers Walk Out At GM

DETROIT (AP) — Bargaining teams from the United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. today continued their negotiations for a new national contract covering 300,000 union workers at GM, although local disputes have idled 20,400 workers.

Rock Soldier Awarded Medal

PLEIKU, VIETNAM — Army Sgts. 4 Todd E. Kaminen, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kaminen of Rock, was awarded the Combat Medical Badge Nov. 10.

Spec. Kaminen is assigned to Company B of the 4th Infantry Division's 4th Medical Battalion near Pleiku.

champagne toast at the party that brought tears to Lynda's eyes.

He still had to attend to business amid the romantic takeover of the White House and excused himself from the party to get back in time to meet a midnight deadline for a bill awaiting his signature.

It hardly seemed that presidential business could go on amid the wedding atmosphere, with 450 reporters, photographers and technicians gathering like bees around the White House.

500 Guests
They had come to report for the world's historic scene from the 500 wedding guests to the six-foot wedding cake.

The White House was so jammed there was standing room only for the elaborate drama.

—The grand stairway descent of the bride party to dramatic trumpet music played by the scarlet-coated Marine Band chamber orchestra.

—Six groomsmen in cut-waives, two by two.

—Seven bridesmaids in long ruby red velvet gowns, including Lynda's 20-year-old sister, Luci Nugent, as matron of honor.

—The heroic strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's Lohengrin—"Here Comes the Bride!"

Episcopal Ceremony
—At the East Room altar, the handsome young bridegroom, a dashing figure in Marine dress blue uniform—a dark navy blue jacket with medals, sky blue trousers, with the two-inch scarlet stripe that symbolizes the courage of fellow Marines who shed their blood at Chapultepec in the Mexican War.

—The exchange of diamond-studded gold rings, the promise to love, comfort, honor and keep each other in sickness and in health "until death do us part" at the white carpeted altar, with a 24-foot gold cross.

When the Episcopal marriage ceremony from the Book of Common Prayer ends with the Rev. Canon Gerald N. McAllister intoning "I pronounce that they are man and wife," Lynda and Chuck kneel on white satin cushions for a final blessing.

Marine Band
Then as the Marine Band strikes up Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," they take their exit under the arch of gleaming swords, held aloft at the East Room doorway by six of Robb's Marine officers.

An audience of prominent personalities, relatives and close friends came for the dramatic event.

A bride married at that same spot, in 1908, 53-year-old Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, was invited among the 500 guests. And the list ranges from Supreme Court and Cabinet to Lynda's once favored beau, actor George Hamilton. He said he was making a jetplane dash to get there and back to a Saturday night stage show in Chicago where he has a leading role.

Obituary
MICHAEL FARRELL
Funeral services for Michael Farrell were held at 9 a. m. today at St. Patrick's Church with Mass, Martin Melican officiating. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Fall River.

Andrew Huthhouse, Leonard Huthhouse, Clifford Dubord, William Allingham, Oliver Swenson. Military rites were conducted by the veterans organizations with Alfred Provencher as chaplain.

Christmas, as a word, is derived from the Old English "Cristes masses," or "Christ's mass."

Walkouts at GM plants near Atlanta, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and St. Louis took 16,800 workers off their jobs Friday, and 3,600 remained out in a strike that started Thursday.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, and Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president for personnel, led the bargainers, who are working under a news blackout—a sign that in the past has meant the two sides are engaged in meaningful negotiations.

The union has set Dec. 14 as a target date for a national contract at GM but has promised not to strike the giant of the industry nationally until after the first of the year.

Will Go Along
GM has already indicated it will go along with the money settlements at Ford and Chrysler which over a three year contract gave workers roughly a dollar an hour more in wages and fringes above the old Big Three level of $4.70.

GM said its assembly plant at Doraville, Ga., which employs 2,900, was closed when union workers staged a one-day walk-out.

The UAW has authorized its locals to hold one-day strikes against the auto giant to keep GM from stock-piling cars to ride out a national strike.

In a local dispute, paint department employees walked off the job at Fisher Body plant in Norwood, Ohio, idling the facility's 2,800 workers and 1,700 others at an adjacent Chevrolet assembly plant.

Discipline Protested
The disciplinary layoff of one worker prompted 35 employees at a warehouse in Los Angeles to strike Thursday afternoon. Picket lines Friday kept 300 warehouse workers and 3,400 workers at adjacent Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants off the job.

Employees at a Chevrolet assembly plant in St. Louis walked off the job over local issues at 1:30 p. m. Friday shutting down the Chevy plant and its adjacent Fisher Body operations, which together employ 5,700 UAW people.

Sunday Deadline
Talks are progressing at Chrysler Corp.'s Indianapolis, Ind., electrical parts plants where 2,900 union employees struck this week over local contract issues, a company spokesman said Friday. National contract covering Chrysler's 86,000 hourly rated and 8,000 union represented salaried workers have already been ratified.

Although local contracts are still unsettled at 14 of 136 bargaining units at Chrysler, a company spokesman said the firm faces only one strike deadline—Sunday night at the Hamtramck assembly plant, employing 6,500.

Job's Initiate New Members At Monday Meeting
The officers and choir of Bethel 9 will meet at the Bethel at 1:30 p. m. Sunday for a practice of initiatory work followed at 2:30 by a rehearsal for the Alma program by all members. Parts in the pageant will be allocated.

At the regular meeting on Monday night at 7 p. m. there will be initiation of new members and election of officers for next term. Those being initiated at this time are: Rosemary Hakes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hakes; Susan Oinas, daughter of Mrs. I. M. Oinas; K a t h y Ottensman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ottensman; Susan Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivar Carlson; Karen Hivala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hivala; Judy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller. Parents of initiators are welcome.

Perkins
Bake Sale
A bake sale will be held Sunday, Dec. 10 by the Third Order of St. Francis, St. Joseph Church after High Mass. The annual Christmas dinner will be served for the members of the Third Order of St. Francis.

Honor Roll
The Perkins High School honor roll for the second six weeks period is as follows: all "A", Bonnie LaCrosse, 9th grade; "B" or better: Gerald Nelson, Judith Letimer, and Polly Clausen, 7th grade; Dale Schneider, and Rebecca Depuydt, 8th grade; Cheryl Nelson and Annette LaChance, 9th grade; Cheryl Starline, Gayle Laucher, and Sharon Depuydt, 10th grade; Julie Meuse, 11th grade; and William Nelson Art Van Damme, Brian Depuydt and Ruth Housenman, 12th grade.

FALLS STOOD STILL
For 30 hours beginning on March 29, 1864, water ceased to flow over Niagara Falls. An ice jam clogged the tributary that feeds the falls.

Crowds Cheer Arrest Of Stop Draft Group

NEW YORK (AP) — Crowds of shoppers, office workers and theater patrons in Rockefeller Center cheered as the police herded a group of antiwar demonstrators into a van beneath the huge Christmas tree.

One girl demonstrator, believing the crowd was applauding their stand, raised her hand in a gesture of protest. The cheer became louder. One man shouted, "Throw away the key after you lock them up!"

Four days of protests ended Friday on that note. They had failed both in their original goal of closing down the Whitehall Street induction center and in gaining the popular support predicted by their leaders.

Today members of the "Stop the Draft Week Committee" met to evaluate their efforts but the failure had already been explained by one demonstrator who said simply: "Blame the cops."

Some 700 demonstrators streamed through Manhattan streets Friday, clashing with police and counterdemonstrators, disrupting sightseers and Christmas shoppers.

Police reported the arrest of 140 persons, bringing the total arrests for the week to 585. Most were charged with disorderly conduct and released without bond pending hearings.

In New Haven, Conn., about 30 demonstrators were arrested when they crossed barricades at the Army Induction Center during a two-hour antiwar protest by as many as 400 persons.

And in Washington president Lloyd H. Elliott of George Washington University suspended military recruiting on the campus until Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey's deferment stand "has been rescinded, overruled or clarified."

In a Nov. 8, 1967, letter to draft boards Hershey suggested they take away deferments of students and others who illegally interfere with the draft. Elliott said he acted on the recommendations of groups representing the faculty and students.

In New York Friday the demonstrators stayed away for the second day from the Whitehall center which police had effectively blocked the first two days.

Instead they raced through the streets from Battery Park up to Times Square and Rockefeller Center signing up traffic but accomplishing little else.

are only 488 shippers of Grade A (drinking) milk left in the Upper Peninsula.

If they and their more numerous fellow dairy farmers downstate don't organize and finance promotion of dairy products the invasion by imitation milk won't be opposed on merit and the dairy industry will be eroded even faster.

It can be saved, the speakers said. Despite all the promotion and price advantages of oleo margarine over butter, for instance, butter still has one third of the market and brings in as much income as oleo.

Farm Investment Hike
The dairymen's investment in their farms represents 95 percent of the total investment in the dairy business and the meeting indicated strongly that the dairymen would fight. Most disconcerting aspect of the contest is that there are not many young dairymen in the business and that the imitation milk threatens to win by attrition as the older dairymen retire from farming and no one takes their place. In an affluent, leisure-filled age a job that calls for 365 days of work a year with no fringe benefits isn't appealing to youth.

The annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, one of the largest milk handling cooperatives in the nation, will probably endorse a Dairy Marketing Program in March and after a campaign in May and June there'll be a vote in the latter month. If it carries, the order could go into effect in July.

New Techniques
"But I think we're a year and a half too late," said Carlson. Besides the promotion and research efforts, the dairymen's campaign will include requests for legislation that will bring milk substitutes under the same demanding standards and inspections that milk and dairy products are under.

This dairy industry effort will not be like the earlier effort to legally ban oleo as a substitute for butter. It will promote the healthful qualities of dairy foods and ask prohibition of false advertising in claims for "filled" and imitation milk. The dairy industry already contends with competition from many vegetable oil toppings, non-dairy coffee whiteners and like products.

Classes at the Escanaba Area Junior High School will be dismissed Monday and Tuesday for parent-teacher conferences, Roy Hivala, principal, announced.

Conference hours are from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p. m. both days. Parents with last names beginning with letters A through M will meet with teachers Monday and those from N to Z on Tuesday.

Mrs. Abramson Of Houghton Dies
Mrs. Alfred (Ira) Abramson, 70, of Houghton, died Friday night in a Houghton hospital of an apparent heart attack. She had been hospitalized since last month under treatment for a fractured hip.

Mrs. Abramson's husband operates a drug store in Houghton and she was known by many residents of the Escanaba area. She was born in Hancock and had lived in the Copper Country all her life.

Survivors include her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Jack (Anne) Magnuson of Escanaba and Mrs. Jean Greer of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Houghton.

Ontario Lures U. S. Visitors
TORONTO (AP)—The Ontario government will spend an estimated $400,000 in advertising on U.S. television in advertising April to lure U.S. tourists to the province.

Tourism Minister James Auld Thursday previewed this week three one-minute color commercials that showed fish flopping, children swimming and girls in bikinis.

The promotion will run in major markets including Detroit.

Ontario is spending $1 million this year to advertise its vacation land. About $750,000 of it is being spent in the U.S.

Mail Truck Overturns
A truck carrying U. S. mail was damaged about 11:35 a. m. Friday when he left County Rd. 426 and overturned in Wells Township, Marquette County.

State Police said the driver, Thomas Mannebach Jr., 25, of 415 1st Ave. S., Escanaba, was not injured. Officers said he came around a curve in the road and lost control of the truck.

The mail was not damaged, troopers said. The truck is owned by Hanley's Trucking Co. of Escanaba and was carrying mail by contract with the Post Office Dept.

Lower Michigan Men Fined $215 On Game Charge
Two lower Michigan men who were arrested by Conservation officers on charges of illegal possession of a deer during the closed season have been ordered to pay fine and costs totaling $215.60 by Justice Ross Davis of Gladstone.

Both men pleaded guilty to the charge.

Officers said Kenneth W. Stauffer, 53, of Stover, and Raymond E. Morell, 43, of Argyle, were arrested in the Escanaba area Monday. Each was assessed a $50 fine and $7.80 costs. A $100 liquidated damages fee also was charged. The deer was confiscated, officers said.

Police Guns Foil Detroit Robbery
DETROIT (AP) — Two men captured by Detroit police Friday in a gun battle after an attempted $107,000 bank robbery are being held in Wayne County Jail today in lieu of $50,000 bond each.

Police said the two, Daniel Singal, 25, and Preston Nathan Barron, 25, both of Detroit, attempted to rob a Detroit Bank and Trust Co. branch office on the city's Northwest Side.

The two men, both of whom police said had long criminal records, were turned over to the FBI for prosecution on federal bank robbery charges.

Police said they captured the men during a running gunfight at the bank. No one was reported injured but a scout car was damaged by gun shots.

As they fled on foot, the robbers left money strewn through an alley behind the bank, police said. Residents in the area assisted officers and bank employees in collecting the bills, police said.

They said that all but about $100 was accounted for in a quick check after the money was gathered up.

Police said the men gained entrance to the bank shortly before 9 a. m. by grabbing senior teller Carl Sumner as he was about to report for work.

They said the men held a gun at Sumner's back and forced him to open the main vault. All seven bank employees present then were ordered to lie on the floor as the men emptied the vault and tellers, drawers of loose cash, police said.

Police said officers, alerted by a tripped alarm, began arriving at the scene while the robbery was in progress.

They said two officers fired a number of shots through the bank's front window at the robbers, who fled through a side door and through an alley at the back of the bank.

Police said more shots were fired by both officers and the robbers during the chase but that no injuries were reported.

The Northland College football team had a distinct Upper Peninsula flavor this season. Among 10 former U. P. high school athletes who earned varsity grid letters at Northland were junior Mike Gobert and freshman Mike Cole of Gladstone. The other U. P. players were Mark Wilhelm of Kingsford, Joe Antonini and Paul Feldhausen of Iron Mountain, Mickey Raboine of Stephenson, Al Anderson of Ironwood, Howard Peterson of Menominee, Martin Domitrovich of Ontonagon and Don Aho of Wakefield.

Bob Gale, 6 foot 5 inch sophomore forward from Trout Creek, hit a pair of field goals and grabbed three rebounds for Michigan State as the Spartans opened their season with an 80-49 victory over Cal State.

Paul Miller, Escanaba's freshman contribution to the Northern Michigan University cage team, has seen considerable action in the three games played by the Wildcats this season. He started against University of Minnesota-Duluth Wednesday night and tossed in a field goal and two free throws for four points as Coach Stan Albeck's quint fashioned a 93-69 victory. Albeck began substituting early in the first half and used 13 players in the game.

A free throw by John Meyers after the final buzzer gave Coach Fritz Wilson's Houghton Greenlins a 43-42 upset victory over Hancock in Canner Country Conference action. Meyers was fouled while shooting as time ran out with the score tied, 42-42. He missed the first shot but sank the second for the victory.

Jon Cameron of Manistique, sophomore forward on the Suomi College basketball team, turned in the best performance of his career as the Hancock quint tipped Mackinac College 80-77. The 6 foot 3 inch Cameron fired in 28 points and hauled down 31 rebounds in an outstanding individual performance. Dave Vertanen, ex-Rock athlete, was sidelined with an injury.

Tim Ballock, former Marquette High School and Northern Michigan University athlete now coaching basketball at South St. Marie, hasn't lost his scoring touch. He tossed in 40 points recently to lead Ely's to an 82-57 victory over the Independents in the Saint Joseph League.

Walt Peters, former Rapid River superintendent now serving in the same capacity at Florence, Wis., has announced that the Bobcats will field a wrestling team for the first time this season. In charge will be Gary Osterberg who wrestled at Seattle University.

Great Northern Conference athletic directors and basketball coaches will meet in Iron Mountain Monday to redraw the conference basketball schedule for future seasons. Starting next year, all GNC teams will play each other twice a season and almost all conference games will be switched to Friday nights. The schedule will remain constant in following years.

Eskey Bows By 76 To 52

ISHPEMING — The Escanaba Eskymos went down to their second defeat in four starts this season, suffering a solid 76-52 setback to undefeated Ishpeming Hematites of the Great Lakes Conference.

The defeat squared Escanaba's record at 2-2 and the victory was the fifth in a row this season for Coach Gordy Farrah's Hematites.

Running into early foul trouble, the Eskymos were forced to switch their game and the result was disaster. They chased the Hematites, pressed on defense, and continued to foul and fall further behind.

At the game's end, Ishpeming had outscored the Eskymos by a 25 to 20 margin in field goals and the Hematites flipped in 28 of 31 shots from the free throw line. Escanaba converted 12 of 22 from the stripe.

Two Eskymos fouled out of action with Gregg Johnson leaving late in the third period and John Moberg early in the fourth.

Ishpeming jumped to a 12-7 lead in the opening frame and spread the margin to 10 points at halftime, 30-20. The Hematites clinched the verdict by outshooting and out rebounding the Eskymos in the second half. They led 54-34 entering the final quarter.

Moberg and Jack Johnson paced the Eskymo attack with 13 and 12 points.

"We were tired out there and the Hematites outscored us," Eskey coach Bill Howes stated after the game. "We're going to give the boys a little rest and see if they can snap out of it before the Alpena game here Dec. 21," he added.

Ishpeming won the jayvee game, 73-56.

Braves End String, Sideline Munising In Conference Game

GLADSTONE — Coach Bill Wood's Gladstone Braves ended a two game victory famine here Friday night by handling the Munising Mustangs, 59-40, in a Great Lakes Conference tilt.

The Braves came off a pair of slim setbacks to Manistique and Stephenson, by a total of three points, and quickly established their superiority over Munising.

Gladstone led 15-3 at the close of the first period and boosted the margin to 30-9 in the second frame as Wood experimented with a variety of player combinations.

In spite of a bout with illness, Mark Stupak came through with an outstanding performance as the Braves squared their record at 2-2. He scored 19 points to lead both teams on the scoreboard and grabbed 15 rebounds.

Every player on the Gladstone squad saw action except Mark Webber, who is still sidelined with illness.

The Braves tallied 22 of 65 field goals for 33 percent from the floor and added 15 of 27 shots from the free throw line. Munising was extremely cold, hitting 15 of 63 field goals for 23 percent and adding only 10 of 31 from the gift line.

Gladstone also won the jayvee preliminary game, 61-52.

Bears Grab Third Loop Win In Row

MANISTIQUE — The youthful Big Bay de Noc Black Bears extended their Central League victory string to three games here Friday by sidelining Rock, 68-53.

Coach Dave Pelletier, starting three sophomores, a junior and a senior, saw his Bears break from a 14-13 first quarter deficit to lead 37-23 at halftime.

John Lewandowski, lanky sophomore, led the second quarter surge with six field goals and finished the night with 28 points. Rick Mercier also reached double figures for Bay de Noc with 14.

Dan Johnson scored 20 points for the Little Giants who lost their fifth straight start.

Bay de Noc also won the jayvee game, 75-36.

Rockets Fashion Second Central League Victory

RAPID RIVER — The Rapid River Rockets vaulted over the 500 mark for the season and captured their second straight Central League decision here Friday night by trimming Eben, 85-52.

Coach Bob Debelak's cagers displayed balanced scoring with four in double figures, led by Clint Safford and Mike Sigrids with 24 point productions.

In addition to firing in 31 field goals, the Rockets were deadly from the foul line where they converted 23 of 29 opportunities.

Safford, Sigrids and Tom Novak gave the Rockets a big advantage on both boards.

Eben was able to connect on only four of seven free throw attempts as Rapid River committed eight personal fouls in the game.

Eben won the jayvee preliminary, 63-61.

Emeralds Hand Holy Name Fifth Straight Cage Loss

By RAY CRANDALL

(Press Sports Editor)

The Holy Name Crusaders rallied from a 14 point deficit midway in the second period here Friday night but an old nemesis gunned them down eventually, 49-45, in a rugged clash with Manistique.

The setback was the fifth in a row this season for Holy Name, and the fourth in which the Crusaders lost from the free throw line. They outscored Manistique by one bucket, 17 to 16, but couldn't keep up from the charity lane. Holy Name converted 11 of 19 and Manistique cashed in on 17 or 24.

Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Emeralds, squaring their season record at 2-2, broke out of a 6-6 tie midway through the first period and took command of the action as Larry Roberts and Ole Sholander put in a flurry of points. They boosted a 10-7 first period lead to 24-10 with four minutes remaining in the first half. Holy Name rallied to narrow the deficit to 28-18 at the intermission.

The Crusaders couldn't find the range from the field in the first two periods in which they managed only six field goals in 33 attempts for 18 percent. They hit on six of 10 from the gift line. The Emeralds made 11 of 29 from the field and six of nine from the line.

With Steve Houle and Steve Fisher sparking a comeback, Holy Name stormed from behind in the third period to throw a scare into the Emeralds.

Another free throw by Roberts put the Emeralds in command, 47-45, with 19 seconds remaining and the speedy guard added a field goal at the buzzer to clinch the victory.

For the night, Manistique tossed in 16 of 49 shots for 33 percent and Holy Name hit on 17 of 71 for 24 percent.

Wolman Denies Story He Has Sold Pro Grid Team

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jerry Wolman says he still owns the Philadelphia Eagles and only bankruptcy could part him from the National Football League Club.

Returning from an out-of-town trip Friday night, the 40-year-old builder-sportsman denied a published report that he had sold the Eagles for $14.5 million to a Philadelphia clothing manufacturer.

He admitted, however, that he was negotiating to refinance the team in order to save his crumbling financial empire. He owns 52 per cent of the club and Earl Foreman, Washington attorney, holds 48 per cent.

Wolman has admitted he is in dire financial trouble caused by "poor planning and a tight money market." He has, however, insisted he will work his ported Friday that Wolman sold the team to Norman Raab, a local clothing manufacturer.

Wolman answered the report by issuing a statement which said he would never sell the club during his lifetime.

"The harassment and abuse by the vultures who have crawled out of the woodwork to break me so they can have an opportunity to purchase the Philadelphia Eagles have made my fight much more difficult," Wolman said.

"I want it clearly understood that Norman Raab is a perfect gentleman and my reference above does not include Norman or his associates."

Wolman, admitted, however, he was talking with a number of people, including Raab, on the possibility of refinancing the Eagles.

"I have talked with Raab and a number of other people but nothing has been signed," Wolman said. "There is a definite possibility that I will refinance the Eagles, but I can't say with whom."

Wolman said it was possible he might sell a minority interest in the Eagles, to someone who also would advance a loan secured by the rest of the club's stock. He would use the proceeds to pay off outstanding encumbrances of $7.5 million and the rest to start paying other creditors who have been pressuring him through various suits and liens. He recently said he had $65 million in assets and $85 million in liabilities.

IN TWO SHORT weeks, Randy Minniear (27) of the New York Giants made the jump from the minor leagues, the Westchester Bulls, to the big time. He slashes for a short gain as Pittsburgh's Ben McGee pulls him down.

Flyers Regain Top Puck Spot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Philadelphia Flyers are back in first place in the National Hockey League's nip-and-tuck West Division race thanks to goalie Doug Favell's second shutout of the season.

Favell blanked the Los Angeles Kings 3-0 in Friday's night's only NHL action, enabling the Flyers to vault over the Kings into first place. Philadelphia has 28 points and Los Angeles 27.

Claude LaForge got the Flyers off in front with a first period goal and then set up Pat Hannigan's second period tally.

Bing Gets Slow Start, Pistons Bow To Lakers In Pro Basketball Tilt

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Bing will have to find his shooting eye quickly when the Detroit Pistons take on the New York Knicks tonight in Madison Square Garden.

Bing, the leading National Basketball Association scorer, managed only four points in the first half as the Los Angeles Lakers whipped Detroit 115-103 Friday night in Detroit.

Jerry West topped the Lakers with 27 points. Elgin Baylor added 21 and Archie Clark, who hails from the Detroit suburb of Ecorse, added 20, including 11 in the final minutes of play.

Larry Costello banked in four goals and assisted on another score in the last minute of play in the 76ers victory over New York. The victory kept Philadelphia one-half game behind Boston in the tight Eastern Division race.

Wilt Chamberlain topped the 76ers with 26 points and Dick Barnett topped New York with 26, two more than teammate Cazzie Russell.

Tom Saunders sparked a Boston charge which carried the Celtics to 14 straight points and victory over the Bulls. The Celtics, trailing 50-49 and out-rebounded 46-28 in the first half, because of a hip bruise suffered by Bill Russell, rallied behind Saunders and Sam Jones to win.

He cocaptained the undefeated Vols team that went to the 1957 Sugar Bowl. He was named to the 1956 All-America team, and placed second to Notre Dame's great Paul Hornung that year in competition for the Heisman Trophy.

After graduation, he served on Bowden Wyatt's staff at Tennessee until moving on to Mississippi State as defensive coach in 1960. In 1964, he went to Arkansas under Coach Frank Broyles.

The Knicks, who will have re-activated a Bill Bradley with them for tonight's game, were beaten 117-109 by the Philadelphia 76ers Friday. In other NBA games, the Boston Celtics beat the Baltimore Bullets 123-108, the St. Louis Hawks dumped the Cincinnati Royals 101-95, Chicago nipped Seattle 115-114 and San Diego thrashed San Francisco 137-107.

The Dallas Chaparrals still have a long way to go, but at least Bob Verga and John Beasley have them moving in the right direction.

The two rookies combined for 36 points, 33 by Verga, to lead the Chaparrals to a 123-110 victory over Anaheim Friday night and move them into a tie for second place in the Western Division of the American Basketball Association.

In the only other game Pittsburgh relied on Charley Vaughn and Art Heyman to sink Kentucky 93-89 in Louisville.

Dallas, playing at home, trailed through most of the first half before Verga and Beasley rallied the Chaps and they outscored the Amigos 35-23 in the third period and 31-27 in the finale. Beasley also pulled in 20 rebounds.

Warren Davis had 33 points for Anaheim.

Now tied with Denver at the 500 mark, the victory still left the Chaps 5½ games behind leading New Orleans.

Los Angeles jumped to a 10-point halftime lead during Bing's first-half slump. But the slick, 6-foot-3 Detroit guard hit 11 points in the third quarter as the Pistons began a rally which eventually fell 12 points short.

Bing ended up with 25 points to top Detroit. Dave DeBusschere and Terry Dischinger each added 16 points.

Bruins Whip Wichita As Alcindor Hits 28

By The Associated Press

That two-point squeaker that UCLA scored over Purdue last week turned out to be just one of those things.

The National collegiate basketball champions routed Wichita State 120-66 in their home opener Friday night for their 36th straight victory.

28 points Wichita proved no match for UCLA, the team many feel will break this season the all-time winning streak of 60 set by San Francisco 12 years ago.

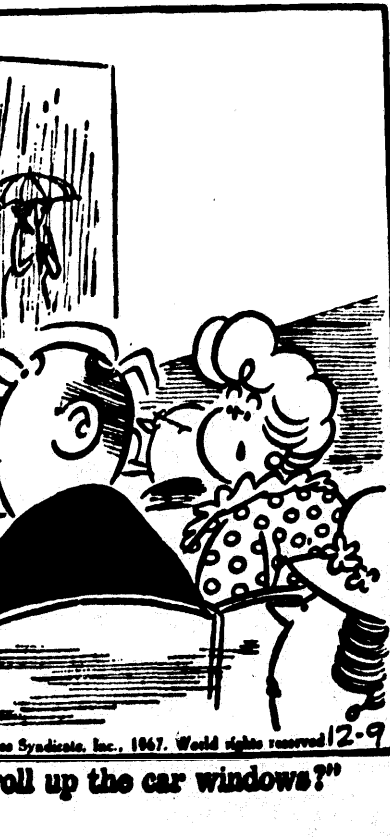

Purdue's star soph, Rick Mount who nearly upset UCLA in his varsity debut, got 23 points against Washington, but the unbeaten Huskies had the upper hand all the way. Dave Carr's 24 points topped the Huskies against the seventh-ranked Boiler-makers.

Spartans Play To Hockey Tie

EAST LANSING (AP) — Bill Watt slammed a goal past goalie Mike Curran with eight seconds to play in regulation play and Michigan State held on in an overtime period to tie North Dakota 2-2 in a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game Friday night.

North Dakota, not 5-1-1 in the league and on the season, had taken a 2-0 lead in the second period when Rod Christensen scored twice within a 30-second span. Wayne Duffett made it 2-1 when he scored for MSU late in the second period.

Deer Kill Up Nearly 12,000

LANSING (AP)—First survey results indicate the 1937 fire-arms deer season produced a kill of 103,400 deer, 13 per cent above last year.

The preliminary estimate is up nearly 12,000 from last year and is the sixth highest on record.

Forest Fire Loss Lowest On Record

With rains falling at right places at the right times the Conservation Department forces, acting fast to snuff out the year's 871 fires, Michigan's 1967 forest fire season has officially ended with damage held to an all-time low of 2,819 acres.

The season's total, best since record-keeping began in 1871, is 66 acres under the previous low set in 1965. It marks a happy turnabout from last year when 1,672 forest fires blackened 13,691 acres in this state.

Speaking well for the department's fire-fighting attack is the average damage figure of only 3.2 acres per fire, also lowest on record.

Favorite Phrase Finds 'Meaning' In Vietnam War

"You've had it, Charlie." When a senior at Escanaba Area High School two years ago, that was Randy Carlson's favorite expression.

Today, Marine Lance Cpl. Randall S. Carlson, son of Mrs. Esther S. Carlson, 1605 8th Ave., S., has found a practical application for the phrase.

Carlson, a 1966 graduate of Escanaba Area High School, is one of about 500 Marine Corps snipers in the field in Vietnam.

And "Charlie" is the most common name for the Viet Cong.

"We've got the same 13 cent killers," Carlson wrote in a recent letter home. "That's how much our 7.62 millimeter rounds cost."

"Marine Corps snipers are organized into 37-man platoons," he continued. "When we are in the field we break down into pairs; one man spots with the binoculars and the other handles the rifle."

"The best place for sniping is at the edge of a heavily wooded area with a good field of fire in front."

Two Arrested In School B&E

State Police of the Manistique Post have arrested two men on breaking and entering warrants in connection with the breaking and entering and robbery last week of the Big Bay de Noc High School at Nahma.

Held in the Delta County jail in lieu of $2,000 bond each are John Ambrose Beaver, 20, of Rte. 3, Rapid River, and John Alfred Bell Jr., 37, of Marquette.

Beaver waived examination when arraigned on the charge before Justice Ross Davis of Gladstone and was bound over to Delta County Circuit Court for hearing in the January term.

Bell demanded preliminary examination and the date for the hearing before Davis was set for Dec. 14.

The school was entered at Nahma sometime on the night of Nov. 30 or the morning of Dec. 1. Officers said that two doors inside the school were forced open and money stolen from a cabinet in the superintendent's office.

Troopers at Manistique investigating the case said that a small amount of money has been recovered.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year... more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

U. S. HEADQUARTERS in Saigon said the A7 Corsair II, a new Navy light attack jet, made its first combat run against a bridge near Vinh, North Vietnam, about 150 miles south of Hanoi Monday. The planes, which can carry 15,000 pounds of explosives and still fly at nearly 600 miles an hour, came from the carrier Ranger. ## State Saving Money Closing Its Fire Towers

The Conservation Department's continuing changeover from lookout towers to aircraft for forest fire detection is boosting Michigan's coverage and defense against fires at a saving of $214,250 a year.

Price tag of the department's 17-unit air arm for watching over the state's forest lands is $280,700 annually. That covers pilots' salaries and fringe benefits, fuel and maintenance expenses of 16 planes and one helicopter, and the cost of replacing two aircraft each year.

By comparison, it would cost the department $494,950 a year to man the 110 fire towers it has phased out of operation since its fire detection program entered the air age back in 1959.

The department is now down to 38 lookout towers and it plans to abandon most of these. A few will escape phasing out in such places as Drummond Island and the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula because they are located in remote areas which do not lend themselves to good flight patterns.

13 Polluters Get Knuckles Rapped

LANSING (AP) — The State Water Resources Commission reports it has cracked down on 13 different cases of unlawful pollution of the state's waters.

Five communities and one industry were ordered to appear in January for hearings before the commission. They also will be given timetables for pollution abatement.

The villages of Camden and Waldron, Hillsdale County, and the townships of Bedford and Erie, Monroe County, are charged with unlawful discharge of raw sewage.

Potosky, Charlevoix County, is charged with discharging waste oils in Bear River and Little Traverse Bay. Trilex Corp. of Wayne, Wayne County, is charged with discharging inadequately treated wastes.

A final order was issued against Orion Township, Oakland County, to stop discharging raw sewage into Paint Creek by July 1, 1970.
